'Asked for a fifth of towing charge'

Pressure to kick back payments to a Madison County sheriff deputy was reported today by the operator of a Granite City towing service. He made no payments, he related.

Marion "Sparky" Sparks, a Chouteau Township auditor and owner of Sparky's Conoco Service, 19th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue, voiced the allegation.

Whether there have been improper activities by some deputies in regard to the towing of wrecked or disabled vehicles is one of the points being studied in a current federal investigation of deputies. The investigation was initially reported exclusively by this newspaper.

"Several years ago, I was approached at my service station by a Madison County sheriff deputy, in uniform, who asked if I would like county towing business," Sparks told the Press-Record.

"I said I am always interested in getting business, and he told me, 'For 20 percent of the towing fee, I will call you if there is an accident in your area.'"

"I told him that I pay his salary through taxes, and I do not feel like I should have to pay him for anything else."

"He talked awhile, and I refused to agree to pay him."

"I don't know if anything happened after that, but I do know that I never got any calls for county towing. And I was even told to leave several accident scenes by deputies.

"A few months ago, Granite City police called me to an accident at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road."

"When I got there, a deputy's car needed towing. The deputy told me not to touch it. He pointed out that Lee and Andy's had been assigned to that area of Madison County."

"I was the only wrecker on the scene, but I was sent back, even though the Granite City police had called me."

"Another time, police and the car owner's wife called me and told me about a wreck on the levee. I went out, and a deputy there said he was not going to let me tow the car."

"The owner said, 'This is my (Continued on Page 6)

City studies proposed Madison park district

By WALTER STRANGE

Press-Record Staff Writer

A study on the feasibility of creating a Madison Park District was proposed by Third Ward Alderman Ron Graywacz at the Tuesday night meeting of the Madison City Council.

"I mentioned this about a year ago and I think it is time to bring it up again," Graywacz told the aldermen. "I feel our city needs and our citizens want a park district," he added.

"We have a good recreation director and, some good programs starting and under way, but we need more activities for the younger residents. We are doing a lot for senior citizens, and we should, but we have a lot of teenagers that also need activities."

"Our recreation program costs money, and as it grows so will the cost. I feel that the people are willing to pay a small additional tax that would be necessary for a park district," Graywacz said.

Mayor Mike Sasyk said he will refer the matter to the council's Finance Committee to make a study.

"We'll be able to see if the city has a way to get additional funds to enlarge the city recreation department or if a separate park district is the way we should go," he said. Granite City and Venice both have park districts separate from the city governments, operating recreational programs for their residents. An election would be required to establish a tax-supported park district.

The council approved the transfer of $5,000 from revenue sharing funds to the city playground and recreation fund.

An ordinance containing the necessary regulations required by the federal government was adopted in order for the city residents to be eligible for flood insurance.

A portion of Madison between the Mississippi River and the levee is referred to as "Zone A" and is in a 100-year flood prone area. No one lives in this area regulated by the ordinance, as the rest of the city is protected by levees.

The "Zone A" area is expected to flood at least once every 100 years.

Second Ward Alderman Frank Dutko introduced an ordinance designating the intersection of Second Street and Highland Avenue a stop intersection at which westbound vehicles will have to stop.

"We have children playing ball on the field next to Second Street and the cars heading

POPULAR SUMMER ACTIVITY. Wilson Park Swimming Pool moves into full swing for the summer swimming season as noted in this view earlier this week. The local pool is visited by approximately 225 swimmers each day during the season. The Park

New dentists praised and challenged

Dental graduates of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were told during weekend commencement exercises that they are better educated than 99 per cent of the population. They were urged to strive to upgrade present services.

Dr. John Salley, associate vice-president for research and graduate affairs at Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, delivered the commencement address to the 37 new dentists and their families and friends in the university's Communications Building theater.

He was one of the original consultants during the planning stages of the SIUE School of Dental Medicine in 1968. In his speech, "Dentistry and the Comprehensive Health Care Team," he said the SIUE School of Dental Medicine has already become a model school.

Most dental schools take six to eight years to plan and the SIUE school was developed in a little over a year, it was noted. He said 95 to 97 per cent of the U.S. population has dental cavities although the present dental care delivery system could control decay to the 85 to 90 per cent level.

Five per cent of all cancer deaths are attributed to oral cancer which could be detected early through regular dental checkups, the graduates were told.

"One in three Americans over 45 are edentulous (without teeth). One in two over 55 years of age have lost all their teeth," he said.

"Two to three per cent of the population receives orthodontic care though about 40 per cent of all children need it. Only 25 per cent of the population receives regular dental care."

Dr. Salley blamed inadequacies of dental services on attitude, social, economic and ethnic factors.

"We as a profession have not taken advantage of advertising to sell the American people on the advantage of good dental care. The dental profession must provide leadership to overcome these inadequacies."

"We are entering a period of comprehensive health care service."

"Look beyond the confines of the oral cavity to see how dentistry can contribute to total health care."

SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw welcomed graduates and guests to the ceremony. He thanked the "parents, wives, husbands, children and loved ones who have provided our new dentists with their steadfast support and understanding."

during an "arduous and exacting course of study."

"From the time you first applied," Dr. Shaw told the new dentists, "someone was there to share your anxiety until you received your notification of admission. That was, no doubt, a glorious day because you were one out of ten or twelve to get in."

In his closing remarks, Dr. Stanley P. Hazen, dean of the School of Dental Medicine, told the students and parents how well this year's class members did on their Northeast Regional Board exams for licensing to practice in Illinois. "All the examiners made the statement that this is the best group they have ever examined," he said.

Dean Hazen added that this is especially impressive, since the 1977 class is only the third graduating class from the SIUE dental school.

$9,825 in court fines allotted in Quad-Cities

Fines totaling $9,825 have been distributed to the Quad-City area by Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Bulch" Portell as the local share of fines collected by the circuit court during May. A total of $101,787 in fines was collected by the circuit during May, of which the Madison County government received $25,271. The state received $28,151 in overweight truck fines, the Illinois Commerce Commission received $1,990 and a $100 fine was distributed to the Department of Conservation.

Alton received the highest distribution of all cities in Madison County with $10,461, but Granite City was second highest with $7,475.

Madison received $1,155, Venice $710, and Pontoon Beach $465.

Venice park budget projects deficits

Assessment reductions in the Venice Park District are expected to result in budget deficits totaling $22,989 during the current fiscal year, according to budget projections that have been approved by the Venice Park Board.

The board has approved a tentative budget of $108,355, a decrease of $3,460 from last year's appropriations of $109,785, but at the same time projected a shortage of income in the general corporate and the recreation accounts to meet budgeted expenditures.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. July 8. The Park Board will meet after the hearing to act on the budget.

In its action approving the tentative budget last week, the park commissioners projected budget items totaling $60,325 in the general corporate fund, $24,800 in the recreation fund, $250 for auditing, $3,450 for liability insurance and $7,500 for municipal retirement payments.

The general fund appropriation is $6,910 below last year's budget of $67,235 and the recreation fund budget is $5,100 higher than the 1976-77 budget of $31,700.

The budget bill projects tax income of $30,000 in the general fund, plus $1,000 in miscellaneous income, during the year. Added to a cash balance of $14,300 at the beginning of the year, the district will have total available income of $45,300 against the budget of $60,325 leaving a potential deficit of $15,025 in the general fund account.

In the recreation fund the budget projects tax income of $25,500, which with a cash balance of $1,225 will give the district total revenue of $26,725 against a budget of $34,800. This leaves a projected deficit of $7,975 in that account.

There will be sufficient income to meet budgeted expenditures in the other accounts, budget documents show.

The general fund includes $24,875 for administration purposes, up from $21,805 last year; $3,150 for the legal department, up from $2,900; $3,000 for the finance department, unchanged from last year; $1,900 for park expenses, up from $1,705; $114,115 for park grounds operations, down from $33,935, and $3,500 for park policemen, same as last year.

The recreational fund budget of $34,800 includes $10,000 for labor in park maintenance and $5,000 for labor in the summer recreation program. Other items include $4,000 in repairs to the recreation building, $2,000 for athletic equipment, $2,000 for repair of playground equipment, $1,500 for electric power for the ball diamond and $2,700 in salaries for the recreation director.

Harry Hartman, park district attorney, noted that the district suffered a reduction of $3,619,388 in determination of this year's assessment figure at $30,629,742.

He said the district has encountered assessment reductions each year since 1972 for a total loss in valuation of $8,991,406 during the period. The Park ID cards to be issued Friday

Granite City Park District will issue identification cards to district residents from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. Friday at the Wilson Park office.

Park District's total valuation in 1972 was $39,021,148.

In other action during its meeting last week the board appointed Calvin Ratliff, 27, of 507 Mercedia St., as a member of the five-man board. He fills a vacancy created when Dale Crawford resigned as a commissioner to accept the post of Venice Park Superintendent.

Ratliff is majoring in recreation at SIUE and is a graduate of Madison High School. He is a son of the late Louis Ratliff who served as a Venice alderman.

Sentenced to county jail

Charles Hahne, 25, of 1631 Second St., Madison, was sentenced in court in Granite City at 3:40 p.m. Monday to serve 30 days in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville and to pay fines totaling $100 plus court costs after he pleaded guilty to assault and criminal damage to property.

Hahne was arrested during the weekend at a tavern in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue alleging that he assaulted his sister-in-law, Sheila Hahne, 1840 rear State St., on April 12, and broke the rear window of her car.

"It is necessary that a resident obtain an ID card in person," he stressed.

Mrs. Ellis dies at 74

Mrs. Mary Ellis, 74, formerly of Granite City and Peoria, Ill., died Wednesday in Long Beach, Calif. She had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Curtis (Helen Maxine) Hicks, and a son, Harold Ellis, both of Wilmington, Calif., when she apparently was stricken.

Her husband, Albert Ellis, died in 1955.

Survivors here include two sons, David of East Carondelet and Reynold of Peoria, Ill.; three daughters, Mrs. William (Virginia) Dalton of Granite City, Mrs. Joe (Marilyn) Cooper and Mrs. John (Marcela) Norman, both of Cahokia; two stepsons, Albert of Granite City and Robert of Cahokia; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Carl (Helen) Guthrie of Peoria; 38 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Visitation after Saturday afternoon at a Cahokia funeral home where services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday. Burial will be in Alto Pass Cemetery, Alto Pass, Ill.

Terry Tinsley, 24, of 2608 Denver St., and Richard L. Fisher Jr., 34, Highland, were charged Wednesday morning with aggravated battery and criminal damage to property in connection with the June 3 beating of Carl Coleman, 2904 Wilson Ave., manager of the Tri-City Grocery in Venice.

Coleman said he was driving at 25th Street and the railroad tracks when three men in a car began to yell at him. Coleman drove away, but the men followed him to the 700 block of Twenty-seventh Place where Coleman got out of his car.

He alleged the three men then approached him and one struck his head with a tire iron, causing a cut over his right eye. The men then broke the windshield of his car with the tire iron before leaving.

Coleman obtained a license number of the car leaving the scene which led to the arrests, police said.

Bond for Tinsley and Fisher was set at $15,000 each by Associate Judge A. A. Matosian and they were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Discount infectious disease in deaths, illnesses here

Authorities investigating three deaths within five days among residents of 2038 Washington Ave. are almost certain the deaths were not caused by an infectious disease. Initial reports that the death certificates at that time of a communicable disease.

Saturday, June 11, Walter Mahaney, 52, of the same address, died after becoming suddenly ill and Alva Boone of the same address went into the hospital complaining of loss of appetite, arthritic-type joint pains.

An autopsy of Mr. Mahaney's body was conducted and extensive tests, including microscopic inspection of internal organs, were conducted. Results released today showed three contributing factors, any of which could have caused Mr. Mahaney's death.

Factors included coronary artery disease, emphysema and sclerosis of the liver. Acute pulmonary (heart valve) failure and heart failure are suspected as the primary causes of death.

There were no signs of hepatitis, the pathologist concluded, noting he nicked himself with a scalpel during the autopsy and was very concerned about catching any disease himself, had there been one present. Mr. Mahaney also had an acute contusion and small cut to his head where he fell on the sidewalk and bruises which were about five days old.

Boone remained in St. Elizabeth Hospital undergoing tests to determine his ailment but authorities have been told signs of hepatitis proved negative and he has shown no signs of having any communicable disease.

Boone was placed in isolation Tuesday as a precaution, due to the deaths at his home, but authorities say they now are certain he does not have a contagious disease.

Rumors of another man having died in the same house within a six-month period appear to be groundless, authorities said, noting extensive searches of death certificates, obituaries and other sources have failed to locate evidence of any other deaths recently at that address.

Coroner's deputies, Granite City police detectives and ambulance personnel said the investigation will continue, but evidence at this point indicates there is no danger of hepatitis or other contagious disease at that address, detectives said.

Capture escapee in burglary here

A 27-year-old California man, believed to be an escapee from San Quentin Federal Penitentiary in California, was captured by security guards inside the Illinois Bell Telephone garage office at 2241 Adams St., at 1:50 a.m. Thursday.

The security men, P. W. Hassell and Ken Wendt, told police they were inside the office and had the lights turned off when they heard noises and saw someone climbing over the front fence.

"They waited while the man broke an office window with a hammer and entered the office. The two guards then jumped on the man, but reported he stood up and swung the hammer at them, striking one guard on the shoulder and the other on the mouth and forehead. One suffered a deep cut above his left eye.

Police were called and Patrolman Robert Krause was almost in front of the building when he received the dispatch. He entered and found the security guards had the man face-down on the floor on the office. He was handcuffed and taken to the police station.

Officers alleged that when they began to question the man, he stated he was caught and admitted being an escapee from San Quentin.

He said he hitchhiked from California to Illinois and was in a tavern when another patron told him they might keep some money in the office of the telephone company garage, the man said.

No charges had been filed this morning against the man, but FBI officials have been notified of his arrest.

Occupant halts burglary try

Charles Barlogh, 2012 Faith Ave., was awakened by his wife at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday after she heard two loud noises from the area of the kitchen.

Barlogh investigated and found the door to the kitchen open, but no one inside. He also found the door knobs had been twisted from a side door to the foyer and the door from the foyer to the kitchen.

One kitchen cabinet showed signs of having been searched, but the burglar apparently was frightened away before taking anything, except both door knobs, which could not be located.

Pontoon, Nameoki in road work agreement

The Pontoon Beach Village Board and the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees have both approved a work agreement under which the township will contract with the village to do most major village road work in return for agreed upon sums of motor fuel tax funds for each project.

The village also will pay the township one-half of the state rental rate for each piece of equipment used. The state has a rate schedule of fair rental rates for most types of highway equipment. The rental will cover the township's costs of insurance, maintenance and other expenses on the equipment.

The village does not intend to dissolve the present Pontoon Beach Street Department, a board member said, but the role of the street department will be limited to routine maintenance tasks, such as patching holes. The township will contract for grading, chipping, oiling and improving streets and for weed cutting.

In an unrelated action, the village board also has approved a special use permit for James Poole, 28 Lakeview Drive, to construct a building three feet from his property line.

tered, with much Venice support going to Mrs. Anita Elime, candidate for Madison and Nameoki Township backing according to Louis Whitless and Wolf running well in Granite City.

After the loss, Wolf continued to serve for the rest of 1976 and gained general recognition as a conscientious and effective legislator.

A breakdown of the 39,685 votes for Rep. Joe E. Lucco, 4,486 for Jim McKee and 27,344 for Rep. Wolf, 8,430 for Whitless and 6,528 for Mrs. Elime.

Rep. Lucco of Edwardsville led with a districtwide total of 21,486 and McKee of Alton gained the other nomination (tantamount to election) with a 17,703 tally.

Wolf received 14,706, Whitless 10,639 and Mrs. Elime 8,525, a three-way district figure of 33,969 out of the five-candidate grand total of 73,148.

In other words, of the votes cast for Quad-Cityans seeking an Illinois House seat, Rep. Wolf to achieve renomination needed only to garner 52.2 percent of the Quad-Cityans' potential here and throughout the district.

Instead, he received only 41 1/2 percent of that potential in the Quad-Cities and 43 1/2 percent of the votes cast for Quad-Cityans throughout the district.

Anytime there are additional candidates on the ballot, they are certain to take a slice of the total turnout. No one gets 100 percent. However, the big tallies for Whitless and Mrs. Elime indicated they were popular and also that there was considerable organized support for them by experienced neighborhood political leaders. The "machine" didn't work toward a single goal.

Another factor was the overall strategy, which proved defective. It was apparent that, with only one Altonian and only one Edwardsville resident in the race for two representative nominations, they were run, strongly compared to intra-community competition between three Quad-Cityans.

The Tri-Cities Area United Way, whose president is W. F. Winter, raises a substantial portion of the fund utilized for the community service, health and character-building agencies in the Quad-Cities.

Proceeds of the October 1977 drive will go toward meeting the agencies' operating costs during the 1978 calendar year.

Interest on federal home loans rises

The federal interest rate on government-backed home loans has been increased from 8 to 8 1/2 percent.

Max Cleland, administrator of Veterans Affairs, said the new rate, established for Federal Housing Administration loans by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, also applies to Veterans Administration home loans.

Cleland said the increase was necessary to bring government rates in line with other competitive rates in the mortgage and financial markets.

The rate change does not affect existing VA home loans. Once a loan is made, the interest rate remains the same for the life of the loan. Also unaffected are rates for VA mobile-home loans, which are for shorter terms and lesser loan amounts.

'Good folks'

anytime, and find very friendly people to talk to and get together with.

It's a brotherhood, of sorts. There are fifteen people in CB these days and, therefore, millions of potential friends.

I have made many new friends because of the radio. I also have been helped out of many a rough spot by fellow Cubers.

Just this past winter, for example, there were many times when my car refused to go.

I remember Red Dog coming by to give me a cable jump. And Knuthead came several times to hand-warm the car before the car would start.

Or the time Eskimo Kid helped me get out of a jam by giving me a cable jump.

And who but another CB'er—Mr. 330, to be precise—would put up an antenna just two hours before a snowstorm, even though we had to sweep snow off the roof before we could go up?

All in all, the CB community is one of help and friendly concern.

Getting involved in CB clubs is a good way to get to know folks.

And summertime is the time when things are really happening within all the area clubs.

We're gonna have a ball, folks! We're gonna have parties, barbecues and fund-raising events.

We're going to get together and take classes in first-aid, so that we can better help people.

We're going to learn to square dance. And we're going to get groups of CBers together and attend as many CB jamborees as possible.

One thing about being in a CB club is that you have a chance to learn to cooperate with others to achieve a goal.

Most CB clubs are non-profit organizations that give portions of their proceeds to various charities.

So, as a member, you can help folks out a lot more than you could on your own.

So, join up, folks. It's going to be a terrific summer. Catch ya later, the Lil Squaw—we're out!

County Board member attacks assessments

Examples of what he termed "unfair assessments" of property were shown to members of the Madison County Board Wednesday morning at Edwardsville by Board Member Roger Elbie of Wood River who requested that County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton of Granite City return all of the assessment books to the township assessors for revisions.

Elbie showed copies of the "green sheets" which compare the green sheets with the county's assessment books makes it possible to determine what percentage of the actual purchase price is being used as the assessment.

He alleged the examples he held in his hand ranged from one per cent assessment to more than 100 per cent assessment. Elbie said the task of straightening out the assessment problems is too vast a task for the county supervisor of assessments and recommended that Barton return all of the assessment books to the township assessors for revisions.

He also pledged that if corrections are not made, he will return to next month's county board meeting with additional examples of what he feels are unfair examples, either too high or too low.

He also wanted to let the council know that Madison apparently will be left out in the cold as far as receiving money from the Public Works Act. It seems that where a city is qualified for less than $75,000, it will get nothing.

Representatives of Optimist, Granite City and Pontoon Beach Lions Club and the Madison Rotary Club were present.

The matter is to be looked into further at a Granite City Rotary directors meeting Tuesday, July 12.

The Rotarians donated $268 to the Granite City Library to buy a film viewer for the bookmobile.

Members were reminded that the installation of officers will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

A request by E. M. Schroeder, 1534 Johnson Road, for rezoning of the property to C-1 (commercial) classification to permit use of the house for professional offices was denied by the City Plan Commission last week. The property now is zoned as R-2 residential.

Schroeder told the plan commission that if he could obtain the rezoning, he planned to move out of the house and rent it for professional offices to a physician or attorney. He said he had no plans to sell the property to a fast-food chain.

Mrs. Ruth Briggs, 1541 Rodger Ave., objected to the proposal, noting that rezoning would open the door to other businesses besides that proposed by Schroeder. She asked that the commission outline the businesses permitted under C-1 commercial zoning and asked if the property were rezoned would it continue in that classification.

Dave Morgan, chairman of the plan commission, said that once a property is rezoned, it remains in that classification and that there is no restriction on what could be placed on the property so long as the business fell under the C-1 classification.

Richard Putnick, 1549 Roger Ave., objected to the rezoning on grounds that it would complicate traffic and parking problems, but Schroeder said he planned to remove several trees and build a parking lot.

Mrs. Lucille McLean, a property owner on Johnson Road, said she would favor the proposal if the entire block on Johnson Road from Carlson being used as the assessment.

FINAL CROP INSURANCE REPORT DATE JUNE 30

Farmers participating in the 1977 Federal Crop Insurance Corporation program are being reminded that the final date for reporting their planned acres of spring crops is June 30. Forms for this purpose have been mailed to all 1977 insureds. If the acreage is not reported on time, damaged crops could be uninsurable for the 1977 crop year under the terms of the contract.

"Heavy sign-up in the 1977 program has resulted in extra heavy workloads in county offices. Therefore, farmers must take it upon themselves to file their acreage report. Participation is up 20 percent from the 1976 level," Ben A. Jordan Jr., director of the Indianapolis regional office for FIC, said.

Two-thirds use GI Bill

Nearly 17 million veterans have taken advantage of the GI Bill in the 33 years since it was launched, but the Veterans Administration says Vietnam era servicemen and women should be the most educated of them all.

That's because 64 per cent of these men and women participated in GI Bill training, compared with a participation rate of 51 per cent of those eligible under the World War II GI Bill and 43 per cent of the Korean era eligibles.

Not only did Vietnam era vets outdo their earlier cousins in GI Bill participation, but a higher percentage of them took college level training than Korean or World War II veterans. The figures are 34 per cent for Vietnam era vets, 22 per cent for veterans of the Korean war and 14 per cent for World War II GIs.

For the three GI Bills combined, more people, 7.3 million, have trained in college than in any other type of training. This is followed closely by non-college level school training (6.7 million, including correspondence school training); 2.1 million persons have taken on-the-job training and more than 800,000 have been farm trainees.

No abuse in use of drugs at jail, board is told

Reports from the Madison County Board's buildings committee and Chief Criminal Judge William Beatty to the county board Wednesday showed no evidence of drug abuse in the Madison County jail at Edwardsville could be found.

The reports, presented during Wednesday morning's regular County Board meeting, also indicated the majority of the jail drug purchases were made at three pharmacies because the pharmacies are capable of providing the types and quantities of drugs needed and within the time frame required.

The pharmacies included Midtown Pharmacy, owned by Granite City Mayor Paul

Schuler, which sold $2,454 worth of medicines to the county in the last year. An Alton pharmacy sold $3,406 worth and an Edwardsville pharmacy $2,415.

The county buildings committee reported noted the committee interviewed the jail physician and nurse and reached the opinion that all the medications given were necessary and that proper procedures had been used in purchasing the drugs. Beatty noted that many of those who enter the jail have emotional and physical disorders requiring the types and amounts of medicine prescribed. He concluded, "There is no evidence of misuse."

ELEVEN JUNIORS CONFIRMED at Hope Lutheran Church. The confirmation ceremonies were conducted by the church's pastor, the Rev. David Fiedling. The congregation also honored the class with a dinner. Two years of religious studies preceded an

City ambulance being repaired

One of Granite City's four new Dodge ambulances is being overhauled after a red brake a week ago as the ambulance was returning from a trip to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

Fire Chief Don Parente said the ambulance, purchased with three others in mid-March, still is under warranty, and repairs will not be charged to the city. The ambulance is being repaired at Biltor Motors, Collinsville, and should be completed next week, Parente said.

The ambulance operated out of St. Elizabeth Hospital. Parente said yesterday that the office of the Emergency Medical Technicians handling ambulance service at the hospital has been moved from the former location adjacent to the emergency room to quarters in the basement.

Ill. Women's Year conferees support Action Days for ERA

The Illinois International Women's Year Conference concluded this week at the Illinois State University at Bloomington-Normal. Several local women were among the 2,500 persons in attendance.

Purpose of the conference was to bring women together from diverse backgrounds to discuss issues of importance to women, organizers said.

A diversity of talent was brought to the event through the conference leadership of State Rep. Susan Catania (R-22nd District); Addie Wyatt, vice-president of the Coalition of Labor Union Women and a member of the National Commission on the Observance of International Women's Year; Mary Jean Collins, Illinois Nurses Association; and Arnette Boswell, Chicago Urban League.

The main issue before the conference was the Equal Rights Amendment and prompted the appearance of

Betty Friedman, author of "Feminine Mystique."

At a prearranged press conference, Miss Friedman announced that women of Illinois interested in ERA ratification would begin an "Action Days" program to demonstrate their dissatisfaction with Illinois legislators who have "failed to give women equal rights."

"The women, men, mothers, daughters, job-holders, wives, constituents... people of Illinois will show they no longer will accept this denial of rights," the author said. It was announced the first Action Day will take place Sunday when people in each legislative district are being urged to contact their state representatives to thank those who have voted "yes" for the Equal Rights Amendment, and announce to the public those who have refused to give women equal rights. As a follow-up event, the second Action Day will occur June 21 in Springfield.

Rep. Catania will speak that day to the issue and women will show their rededication for "equal rights for women" and proceed with the Action Days' strategy and other projects to secure ratification of the ERA in Illinois, it was announced.

Local ERA proponents said it has long been shown by supporting the ERA ratification, legislators also support equal pay for women, open law, medical schools, better credit opportunities and other advancements for women. The International Women's Year conferees overwhelmingly endorsed ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. Further information concerning the Action Days events may be secured locally by calling Liz Neeley, at 877-7477, or Dorothy Haegle, at 466-3173. All area women are being encouraged to attend one or both Action Day functions, Miss Neeley said.

Workshop leader at IWY conference

Mrs. Anita Eftimoff, 2800 Michigan Ave., served as a resource person for a workshop, "Women and Politics," held during the weekend at Illinois State University at Bloomington-Normal. The workshop was one of 16 held as a part of the three-day Illinois International Women's Year Conference, planned according to the guideline of Public Law 94-167.

The panel discussion was chaired by Joan Alter, a commissioner on the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago. Topics covered were volunteer workers, campaign financing, full participation in political parties and appointments to state boards and commissions. Nearly 2,500 persons were registered for the conference, which featured a welcoming address by Addie Wyatt, a member of the National Commission of Observance of International Women's Year.

Auxiliary 113 names Girl Staters

Mrs. George K. Durbin, Girl's State chairman for Tri-City American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113, is announcing the selection of Miss Jane Marshall and Miss Jane Matoesian as representatives of the unit to the 37th annual Girl's State program.

The two Granite City delegates are attending the Illinois Girls' State, sponsored by the Illinois Department of the American Legion Auxiliary, at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, this week. The program concludes Sunday.

Both girls are junior year students at their respective high schools, a prerequisite in choosing a Girl's State delegate, Mrs. Durbin explained.

Miss Marshall is a daughter of Mrs. Rae Marshall, Rural Route Two, Granite City. She is a student at Granite City High School North and a member of the North Student Council and National Honor Society.

The Girl's State serves as assistant editor-in-chief of the school's Ingot Yearbook. She is a member of the Quill and Scroll Club.

participated in the South Folies and May Festival skills.

Mrs. Durbin explained the purpose of Girl's State is to provide citizenship training to about 525 high school juniors each year by affording them an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens.

They also learn "by doing" the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, in order they may better understand and participate in the functioning of government, the Legion Auxiliary chairman said.

Girl's State is a mythical state, patterned after the State of Illinois and following the form of Illinois state government procedures as closely as possible, Mrs. Durbin said.

The girls attending form two political parties (non-partisan) and hold conventions, campaigns and elections. They also perform other duties pertaining to various public offices.

Mrs. Durbin said that Girl's State is a program of education in the American form of government and the selection of girls who will attend is most important to the program.

The participants spend one day in Springfield at the Capitol Building to observe the elected officials at work, the chairman said.

Miss Marshall and her mother accompanied Mrs. Durbin to the Girl's State Tea held in May at the Cahokia American Legion Hall, when details of the program were outlined.

MR. AND MRS. GARY RAY WARREN. They were united in marriage at Central Christian Church. The bride is the former Miss Peggy Ann Barnes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin T. Barnes III, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City. (Granite Press Photo)

Peggy A. Barnes married in candlelight ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Peggy Ann Barnes and Gary Ray Warren in an early evening ceremony, on May 28, at Central Christian Church, 3020 Johnson Road.

Bouquets of summer flowers decorated the altar and burning tapers in tiered candelabra provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 6 p.m. by the Rev. Dennis Rutledge.

Mrs. Joyce Harris presided at the organ and accompanied Miss Kelly Cottrell as she sang, "Follow Me," "Time In a Bottle," "Wedding Song," and "Colour My World."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin T. Barnes III, of Edwardsville, former Granite City residents. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Braille Warren, 217 Briarwood Drive.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Barnes, selected a formal length gown, of white organza designed in a princess style and delicately accented with vertical rows of Venice lace from the neckline to the hem.

The long bishop sleeves were also enhanced with a band of matching lace and set into the molded bodice with a high neckline.

A gathered Cluny lace ruffle edged the skirt and full chapel train.

She wore a Venice lace Juliet cap to hold in place her mantilla veil and she held a nosegay of white daisies, pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath, festooned with long satin streamers.

Bridal attendants were gownned in rainbow color polyester Empire dresses featuring V-necklines and a sash in a darker hue, marking the waistlines.

They wore capes over their shoulders which also created short sleeves and picture hats in colors to match their attire, trimmed with a dark ribbon streamer.

Each attendant held a nosegay of pastel color daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Gayle Pfaffen, maid of honor, appeared in a purple gown, and the bridesmaids, Misses Debby, Kathy and Becky Barnes, sisters of the bride, chose yellow, apricot and pink, respectively, and Miss Debbie Reymann, selected a green dress.

Anne Early, a cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a blue frock similar to the attendants and she carried a white basket filled with daisies.

Denny Lucido was the ringbearer.

The groom chose Tom Newman as his best man. Groomsmen included Keith Wagner, Edwin Byrd, Bill McNew and Rusty Jones.

Seating the guests were Brad Harmon, Paul Jones, and candlelighters were Brian Wilson, Jeff Cox and Joe Cox.

Mrs. Barnes, mother of the bride, was attired in a formal peach color gown complemented with a chiffon cape.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Warren, wore a floor length dress in sea green knit enhanced with a pearl trim and white accessories.

Parents of the bride hosted a reception at the American Legion Hall in Edwardsville and the groom's parents entertained the bridal party at a rehearsal dinner at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville.

The newly married couple are residing in Granite City after a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountain area.

Both young people are Granite City High School graduates. The bride is employed as a unit secretary at St. Elizabeth Hospital and the groom works for Holten Meat Co.

Nameoki bolsters aid to housing, fire districts

The Nameoki Township Community Development Citizens' Advisory Committee has agreed to appropriate $31,400 from other funds to aid two fire departments and to bolster the housing rehabilitation program.

The committee appropriated $15,000 to aid the Long Lake Fire Department construct a new firehouse building, $10,000 to help the State Park Fire Department in purchasing a new fire truck, and $6,400 for the housing rehabilitation program.

The township originally planned to give $10,000 to the Long Lake department and $5,000 to the State Park department from federal revenue sharing funds.

A heated discussion developed May 31 when the township's highway commissioner, Frank Mehlis, and several members of the audience contended the $25,000 appropriation in the revenue sharing fund for the township's environmental cleanup program was insufficient to operate the program for 12 months.

The board recessed the public hearing and held a semi-private meeting to discuss ways to bolster the appropriation for the environmental cleanup program without reducing other programs.

An agreement was reached in which the $15,000 in revenue sharing appropriations to the two fire departments would be transferred to the environmental cleanup program and the Community Development Committee would be asked to use idle grant funds to make up the deleted aid to the fire departments.

A meeting of the Community Development Committee of the township was called for last week and just before that meeting, word was received that the township would receive $6,400 in additional discretionary funds from the county's community development office.

The township's committee met and decided to transfer $25,000 from an idle fund to the fire departments and to appropriate the newly-announced $6,400 grant to bolster the housing rehabilitation program for elderly and low-income families.

The $25,000 was taken from a community development appropriation to help senior citizens and the handicapped pay the costs of tapping their home sewer systems into proposed new sanitary sewers serving Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships. The sewers are not expected to be constructed this fiscal year because the project is being held up by a lawsuit now in the Appellate Court.

With the pledge that sewer hookup aid will be appropriated when sewer construction begins, the committee voted to declare the $25,000 as idle funds and transferred $15,000 to aid the Long Lake Fire Department building project and $10,000 to help the State Park Fire Department in purchasing a new fire truck.

The appropriations to the fire departments exceeded the amounts cut from the revenue sharing budget—$10,000 to the Long Lake department and $5,000 to State Park.

The $6,400 added to the housing rehabilitation program brings the total available for housing aid to $21,400. The township's community development committee currently has 14 applications on file for aid in rehabilitating houses, and additional applications are being sought.

The committee, co-chaired by Township Supervisor Harold Davis and Pontoon Beach Village Board President Floyd David Moss, will meet in the near future to determine the extent of aid which will be given each applicant qualifying for the program.

The resolution also strongly opposes lobbying efforts by various groups which would pre-empt state enforcement of charitable trust laws and give such authority to the federal government.

Scott said he would not be opposed to co-existent jurisdiction with the federal government, but that states should have the authority to pass more stringent requirements and enforce them.

In another resolution, the association went on record citing a need to have state and federal regulation of the transportation of extremely hazardous wastes.

State backing new lock, dam

The present condition of Locks and Dam 26 on the Mississippi River poses "a threat to the future of our nation's transportation system," Illinois Director of Agriculture John R. Block told members of Congress Tuesday.

Block testified before the U.S. House Committee on Public Works and Transportation that he and his department are in favor of a new concrete dam and a single 1,200-foot lock to replace the present complex at Alton.

The director also said he favors prohibiting a 12-foot channel and maintaining the current nine-foot depth.

"The Illinois Department of Agriculture represents the No. 1 agricultural exporting state in the United States," Block noted.

"The importance of maintaining a viable transportation network for getting products to market and raw materials to the farm cannot be overestimated."

"More than a billion bushels of Midwest farm products transited Locks and Dam 26 in 1976. This represents more than 75 per cent of the total amount of grain shipped by river in the U.S."

"The petroleum products, fertilizer, steel and other goods that pass through this facility are also vital to the high level of agricultural productions in Illinois."

"The burden of maintaining the flow of agricultural materials is too great for any single method of transportation to handle."

"We must take every step we can to insure that nothing jeopardizes the flow of materials necessary to agricultural production in the Midwest."

"We feel that the present Locks and Dam 26 do indeed pose a threat to the future of our nation's transportation system."

"Long delays caused by the inadequate size and condition of the present facility are well-documented. The storm of controversy over what should be done to remedy the situation is also well-known."

"Consideration of future demands on this facility has led us to support the plan that offers the least amount of risk from an engineering standpoint and insures a minimal amount of future maintenance difficulties."

"For these reasons, the Illinois Department of Agriculture endorses the construction of a new concrete dam with a single 1,200-foot lock. This is the minimum amount of upgrading that must be done to meet future demands, while minimizing the possibility of long delays that plague the present facility."

"The department also favors prohibiting a 12-foot channel and maintaining the current nine-foot depth."

"We support the creation of a master plan for the upper Mississippi and also stopping system expansion until this plan is complete. Finally, we feel that Congressional approval should be required for any proposed river capacity expansion."

"Further deliberation and more studies will only serve to increase the likelihood of tie-ups."

"Quick action on this bill is imperative to the future well-being of the Midwest's agricultural and industrial economy," he concluded.

KEEPING IN STEP with the rest of the nation in the observance of Flag Day Tuesday, these children, ranging in age from 2 to 6 years old, take part in a mini-parade in the 2300 block of Grand Avenue. The children, students at the Happy Day Child Center, sponsored by the First Assembly of God, 24th Street and Grand Ave., have been studying the history, uses and care of the flag. They are parading southwest on Grand Avenue before circling the block walking to 23rd Street, then northwest to State Street, proceeding northeast to 24th Street, then back to the starting point. More than 65 youngsters participated in the parade. Director of the care center is Mrs. Iris Gann.

Free hunting, fishing licenses for elderly in bill backed by Steele

An Illinois "Golden Years" hunting and fishing license would be provided without charge to citizens 65 years of age and over under a bill sponsored by State Reps. Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) and James Reilly (R-Jacksonville) now awaiting final action in the Illinois House.

"Senior citizens may hunt and fish in Illinois without charge under existing laws," Rep. Steele explained, "but there still is a need for a license for them so that they can properly identify themselves when they apply for specific permits or when senior citizens are checked by game wardens or conservation officials."

Rep. Reilly said one problem encountered by many senior citizens who hunt crops up who want to purchase Illinois deer hunting permits.

"Since an Illinois hunting license is required to obtain a deer permit — and senior citizens currently have no hunting licenses — senior citizens seeking to obtain deer hunting permits have encountered considerable difficulties and confusion. By issuing 'Golden Years' licenses to senior citizens, this type of situation will be eliminated," Rep. Reilly said.

Rep. Steele said, "The reason Illinois has provided free hunting and fishing privileges to senior citizens has been to aid and enhance the retirement years of those who have worked a lifetime and have paid taxes for many years."

"The legislation sponsored by Rep. Reilly and myself provides a means to properly identify and establish those privileges for senior citizens who wish to apply," he said.

Licenses would be valid during the lifetime of the applicant and would be numbered to insure proper identification.

"Based on the favorable reaction we've received from legislators and the support the bill has received thus far in the legislative process, Rep. Steele and I are confident that it will receive final approval by the House in the weeks ahead," Rep. Reilly said.

Louis Vasil, 85, of 1625 Olive St., was found without signs of life in his home at 9:50 a.m. Tuesday and was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg at the scene at 10:20 a.m.

Police were called by two of Mr. Vasil's friends who said they had not seen him since Friday morning and were unable to get a response to knocks at his door during the weekend.

Officers were able to pry open a window without damaging it and crawled through to enter Mr. Vasil's home. He was found in bed.

Friends said he had been under a doctor's care. Nothing in the house appeared to have been disturbed and there were no signs of foul play, officers said.

Mr. Vasil owned and operated the International Bakery in Lincoln Place for many years, prior to his retirement.

He was born in Albania and resided in this area 67 years.

Mr. Vasil was a member of Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church.

His wife, Mrs. Thomea Vasil, died in 1940.

Born in Thebes, Ill., he resided in the Quad-City area 51 years.

Mr. Holshouser had worked as a laborer at the local steel plant for 44 years prior to his retirement seven years ago.

Brothers in 'disagreement'

Two brothers, ages 23 and 25, were injured when they were involved in a fight in the yard of a residence near the Nameoki Township Garage, 4550 Highway 102, at 9:50 a.m. Tuesday.

A sheriff's deputy said that while he was enroute to the scene, he saw the car in front of him stop suddenly for a blue pickup truck which darted across the road into the township parking lot chasing a man.

The truck was stopped and the driver was found to be bleeding from a severe cut to the head.

The driver explained he and his brother had an argument. One man picked up a tire tool and the other picked up a sickle. One broke loose, got into the other, chasing him into a wooded area near the township garage.

The man on foot struck the windshield of the truck with the sickle, breaking the windshield, and then struck the driver's door, denting it, it was reported.

The driver of the truck said the cut to his back was sustained sometime during the disagreement when a drunken glass was thrown at him and broke on his back, deputies related. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where 22 sutures were administered to close the cut.

Neither brother wanted to sign a criminal complaint, so deputies left without charging either.

3-car accident

Mary Walker, 20, of 2127 Delmar Ave., was injured in a three-car accident on Edwardsville Road near the railroad tracks at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The auto of Denise Hamilton, 2129a rear Delmar Ave., was stopped in traffic with the car of Linda McDonald, 1863 Spring St., behind it when the auto of Charles Hyman, 2242 Thirteenth St., was reported to have struck the rear of Linda McDonald's auto, pushing it into Denise Hamilton's car, according to official reports.

Miss Walker, a passenger in Linda McDonald's auto, struck the windshield with her head, breaking the windshield. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for a head injury and a bruise to her right knee, but she was released after x-rays were taken.

Stephanie Hyman, 2, also of 2242 Thirteenth St., a passenger in Charles Hyman's car, also suffered minor injuries, but did not require hospital treatment.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL

Des Pickles, 52, of 1914a Grand Ave., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by city ambulance early this week after being in an auto accident. She suffered pain to the back of the neck, her knees and forearms. X-rays were taken and she was admitted for observation.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED

Rollin Bickell Jr., 18, of 2415 Grand Ave., went to St. Elizabeth Hospital early this week after being involved in a motorcycle accident, but declined treatment.

Post 435 outhits foe but trails in runs, 5-2

Youth will be served, but it sometimes takes awhile in baseball.

The unusually young Glen Carbon American Legion Post 435 team is fully competitive in the 22nd District League campaign but it found itself outscored in two league games this week.

A hopeful sign at Collinsville Tuesday evening was that Glen Carbon outlit the hosts 7-6. But Collinsville garnered a 5-2 advantage in runs.

At Fairview Heights Monday night, Post 435 lost 4-1 as the host squad utilized six hits to offset Glen Carbon's opening-inning offensive.

Bob Batey singled, advanced on an infield out and scored on Judy Batey's single in the first. The only other hit against Fairview Heights was a later double by Batey. Terry Page took the pitching loss.

Against Collinsville, Glen Carbon broke the scoring ice in the second stanza on Mike Simpson's hit, a wild pitch and Richard Awit's single.

Collinsville tied it in the third and went ahead 2-1 in the fifth, only to see Glen Carbon deadlock the score at 2-2 in the sixth on Rich Schmidt's double.

Kevin Hayes' single and Batey's sacrifice fly to right field.

The hosts wrapp it up with three sixth-inning runs. Jeff Hamilton went the distance on the pitching mound for Glen Carbon. Schmidt and Jeff Fields each hit a double and single.

Legion textbook-perfect in win; Cincinnati test next

Textbook-perfect baseball was played by Tri-City American Legion Post 113 here last night in defeating the independent Alton Optimist baseball team 1-0.
Post 113 is 4-0 in league play and 8-0 for the 1977 season. Tom Muhl pitched a two-hitter for Post 113, striking out five, walking one and retiring 16 batters on infield plays.
No enemy player reached third base last night, nor have foes done so for 16 consecutive innings. Post 113 has a string of 25 scoreless innings intact, including three straight shutout wins.
The game was scheduled for seven innings but continued due to a scoreless deadlock. Post 113 made no errors and the Alton Optimists committed one.

In the last half of the ninth inning, Tom Hennrich walked but an effort to sacrifice failed and he remained on first base with one out.
Mike Clark's single to leftfield placed runners on first and second base.
On the initial pitch to Second Baseman Randy Smith, Smith drilled a single up the middle of the diamond and into centerfield.
There was a strong throw to home plate, but Hennrich was motoring well and scored the lone run of the contest. His team totaled seven hits.
Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion's Post 113 squad is looking forward to doubleheaders at 1 p.m. Saturday and Sunday on the Felling Road ball field against

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., June 16, 1977 Page 15

Tri-City makes it appear easy — but it wasn't — in 3-0 win

"Summertime . . . and the living is easy!"
Especially when you've got a Champion as a manager, and a Champion as a player, and you win all your games, and it looks like you'll all become American Legion baseball champions one of these summer days.
After a contest at Bethalto Monday was postponed because of wet grounds, Conrad Champion's Legion Post 113 nine went to Alton Tuesday evening and gained a 3-0 win over a tough Legion team.
The victory on Paul Evans' two-hit pitching advanced the Tri-City Legion's record to 7-0 for the 1977 season, including 4-0 in District 22 Legion competition.
Evans struck out 11 enemy batters while walking three. His record for the year improved to 1-0 in league play and 2-0 overall on base.
The game was scoreless until the top half of the second inning, when Paul Evans singled, John Lakin doubled to put runners on second and third base and Joe Fargento hit a two-out clutch single to left field.
It stayed 1-0 until the fifth frame, when Ray Smith reached base on an infield error.
Flashed a hit-and-run sign, the players did just that. Keith Champion singled to center and Smith scampered to third base, drawing a throw to that base. During the throw, Champion took second base.

Mike Clark then doubled in both runners.
Lakin and Evans each garnered two of their team's nine hits. Also chalking up hits were Tom Hennrich, Larry Heagy, Clark, Parents and Champion.
Evans prevented any Alton runner from reaching third base.
There were no outfield flyballs by the losers until the final out in the final inning, the final out in the final inning.

Post 113 players were proud of their flawless fielding, compared to Alton's three errors, all on difficult plays. But the Tri-City athletes were frustrated by lack of timely follow-up hits except in the second and fifth innings.
The local squad stranded 12 runners on base.
After a league game at 8 tonight at Edwardsville, Post 113 will entertain the highly-regarded Cincinnati (Barn) Storm club for two twinnings at 1 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. Sunday all on the Felling Road diamond.

First Assembly Bible School

"Sing It Out, Jesus Loves You!" is the 1977 Vacation Bible School theme for First Assembly of God, Rev. Dale Edwards announced this week. "Summer is the time for fun, so we've planned lots of exciting activities. The purpose of these activities is to discover ways the Lord shows His love and to praise Him for that love," Rev. Edwards added.

The Vacation Bible School begins June 20 and continues through June 24. Classes are held at 24th Street and Grand Avenue from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Rev. Edwards also announces Rev. Dennis Ripley, director of Christian Education at First Assembly will direct the school and Mrs. John Pithers will serve as assistant director.

"In addition to Bible stories and crafts, bible learning activities, recreation and refreshments are also a part of each day's schedule," Rev. Edwards said.

Explaining, he said, "By presenting you with a degree, we are not saying that you have learned all you will ever need to know. Quite the contrary, we are saying that you have made the best possible beginning. You must be willing to continue to "learn how to listen," Dr. Shaw

"Usually we drive ourselves try to appreciate the value of what others have to say. There so that true communication takes place."

"You must realize that the in trust. It is a social transaction, with public responsibilities."

"Prosperity is never a purely private matter. Only if you are willing to give generously, will you be able to fully appreciate the value of what comes to you in return."

Pres. Shaw said this year's graduates are facing as broad a spectrum of problems as any graduating class in the history of the nation.
He cited the energy crisis, inability of the economy to keep pace with population growth, changing social roles, increasing cynicism, a "crisis of confidence" and declining reverence for authority.

"With all this in mind, one might come to the conclusion that you would be better served in the university presented you with tranquillizers rather than something so ephemeral as a diploma," the president said.
"But I am not here to counsel despair. You do have a good life to look forward to."
"In fact, if you make the most of the challenges you will have to face, you will reach new levels of personal maturity. And the society in which you will be active will be stronger and more solid, too."

"It is not uncommon to overlook hidden strengths while pointing to obvious problems."
"You are better prepared than the general majority of those in your age group to deal with the pressing facts of change."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
On increasing cynicism and crisis of confidence, the president said, "Matters such as poverty, racism, international tensions and human rights run deeper than we imagined. Good wishes are not enough."
"We must face things much more realistically, and part of that realism has to include an awareness that some real sacrifices are involved.

"An attitude of give-and-take must dominate our dealings with each other," Dr. Shaw continued. "And we may find ourselves doing more giving than taking if we are going to find the genuine peace and harmony we all yearn for."
In a final admonition, he said,
"From you must come the new leadership in which we can all have faith, a confidence now that can only be earned by performance."
"Deeds will down out the loudest words in the days to come. You truly face an awesome responsibility."
"But there is a difference between awe, which begets dreams and wonder, and fear, which begets pettiness and cowardice. If you appreciate this difference, you will make the most of my charge to you today."

Lofty goals by class on aerospace

Students who enroll in an SIUE aerospace education workshop during the summer quarter will spend much of their classroom time in flight.
Designed to increase elementary teachers' knowledge of flight dynamics, the summer workshop in Aerospace Education (ED EL 516-4) will include visits to several airports, flying experiences and rocket, model plane and kite demonstrations.
The 10-day course, which will begin July 18 and continue through July 27, will meet daily from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. and will conclude with a flight from Scott Air Force Base to Andrews AFB, Washington, D.C. Students will spend the final three days of the workshop at the Smithsonian Institution.
The course will be directed toward helping teachers create instructional techniques and strategies that will help their students utilize aerospace sciences as valuable learning resources. Robert Williams, assistant professor of elementary education, said, Williams, instructor for the course, has just received the university's Great Teacher Award for a "creative and practical approach to teaching."
Students will be introduced to the principles of flight and constructing and flying their own model airplanes, rockets and kites. The public will be invited to watch the class members launch their own creations and view Army helicopter demonstrations at the SIUE soccer field.
The class will tour the Civic Memorial Airport tower and hangar facilities at Bethalto.
Twenty-minute flights over the area will be scheduled.
Other field trips will include a visit to McDonnell-Douglas Corp. and Ozark Airlines in St.
Louis.
The entire class will be airlifted by a U.S. Air Force C-130 from Scott to Andrews.
During the stay in Washington students will be housed at Georgetown University.
While the flight is free, students will be responsible for their room and board. Dormitories at Georgetown University are $9 per night.
Mornings will be spent at the Smithsonian helping write curriculum for course programs. Afternoons and evenings will be free for visiting the Capitol and other sightseeing tours.
Instruction will be supplemented by representatives from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Air Force Reserves. On-the-spot lectures and demonstrations by aviation personnel will be given to students during all the field trips.
Registration will be limited and will be accepted through the first session on a first-come, first-served basis. A $10 laboratory fee will be charged.
Registration will begin today in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center, continuing until 7 p.m. Information is available at 692-3082.

Local income tax for education urged

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — The most interesting idea being discussed in this session of the General Assembly is that of financing education with a local income tax.

Of course, it's an idea whose time has not yet come. The legislation won't be approved this year.

"I was living in Charleston when I got the idea," says Rep. Jim Edgar, a Republican and the sponsor of the House bill. "We were going through four defeats of trying to raise property taxes."

"The people kept asking: 'Can't we do something else?'"

As it turns out, Iowa and Kansas have similar plans and Sen. Vivian Hickey, D-Rockford, is sponsoring nearly the same bill in the Senate.

Few persons, either home owners or tax experts, think the property tax is an equitable method of financing education. However, even fewer persons have the solution as to a fair way to replace it.

In pushing their income tax plans, both Edgar and Hickey emphasize local control.

"Let the people in each school district determine what kind of tax they want," Edgar said. "Personally, I prefer the income tax, but let them decide. If the majority of people in the district would rather use the income tax, why not let them use it?"

In Hickey's version of the bill, the burden would completely shift from the property tax to the income tax.

"The total received from the income tax wouldn't be any more than received from the property tax," Hickey said, "so the people could see the shift. The tax could be increased by referendum later if they wanted to."

"The tax would be based on ability to pay. Most people would not have to pay more taxes than they do now."

Under Edgar's plan, the burden would not only shift to the income tax, but it could also result in higher taxes immediately.

Despite the opposition of Chicago Democrats, Edgar's bill was approved in the Revenue Committee. He says it has the support of the Illinois Education Association, the Farm Bureau, many senior citizens and even high-income parents who have children in school.

"Politically, that is an interesting group," he said. "The committee vote showed the idea is feasible. I'm encouraged. I think we have a good shot at passage next year."

There are problems with the legislation, of course.

It would be difficult for the state Department of Revenue to administer. It would be hard to determine the amount of a business, such as Sears, which has branch offices in different areas of the state.

Politically, it will be difficult to convince suburban and Chicago districts, who do well under the present school aid formula, that many Downstate districts need a change.

HEAD HITS WINDSHIELD

Helen M. Winters, 23, St. Louis, went to St. Elizabeth Hospital last week after sustaining injuries in an auto accident. Her head struck the windshield and she also suffered abrasions to her left hand and arm. She was admitted.

MECHANICS WORKING

A tentative agreement has been reached between Teamsters' Local 971 and auto service stations in this area, thus averting a possible strike of mechanics and service station employees. Today had been set as a tentative deadline for reaching agreement.

Driver injured in sprint car race; Wolfgang wins feature

Doug Wolfgang was the winner of a sprint car feature race Wednesday night at Tri-City Speedway during a racing program which included a serious accident.

In the first heat race, the auto of Lenard McCarl, 38, Des Moines, Ia., collided with another car and became airborne, turning over in the air several times before going over the guardrail and landing outside of the track.

McCarl was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth

Hospital, where he was admitted with a fractured shoulder, a cut to his right upper arm and abrasions to his right shoulder.

The event drew one of the largest crowds in the track's history and cars overflowed the large parking lot, with many having to park at the shoulder of Route 203 and walk to the race grounds.

3 cyclists hurt

Three cyclists were injured Tuesday night during racing action at the Tri-City Speedway. Guy McClure, 22, of Ft. Worth, Tex., was hospitalized at 10:50 p.m. Tuesday with swelling and a broken right thigh.

James Rawls, 23, of Eufaula, Tex., was admitted with a cut to the right eyebrow and two cuts under the chin.

Tim Cartwright, 18, of Tulsa, Okla., had a fractured left shoulder and was admitted for possible surgery.

McClure was in good condition today and is in Room 343 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Cartwright and Rawls were released Wednesday.

Midgets, 50-lap sportsman auto race Saturday

The "mighty midgets" racing cars will return to Tri-City Speedway Saturday night for a special triple-header racing program which also will include the mid-season championship race for sportsman cars and late model stock car racing.

The Local Auto Racing Fan Club is to bring its midget racers to the track for the special event.

Authorities said all midget car racers in the Midwest have been invited and a large number of cars is anticipated. Highlight will be the Miller Cup 50-lap mid-season championship race for sportsman cars, which also will participate in heat races.

Events for the late-model stock cars will be the last before the mid-season championship race June 25 for those racers. Gates will open at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, with the first heat race slated for 8 p.m.

Youth attempts break-in, then assaults woman

A young man who attempted to break into the home of Mary Dermott, 2417 E. 25th St., at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday returned at 12:05 a.m. today and assaulted her.

She said she heard someone opening the rear door at 10:30 p.m. and saw a youth she did not know trying to get the locked door open.

She asked what he wanted and he ran east on East 25th Street.

At 12:05 a.m. today, the victim was seated on her front steps when the same youth grabbed her from behind and said, "You've had it now," and an obscenity. She struggled free, suffering a scratch to her arm and a torn blouse, but managed to run into the house and lock the screen door and the front door.

She said the youth tore open the locked screen door, but could not get the front door open and left.

She described the youth as about 6 feet, 2 inches tall, having long dark hair in a ponytail and wearing a striped tee shirt and faded blue jeans trousers.

GC Jaycee Homecoming starts tonight at 6

Midway rides are in place today on the Nameoki Village Shopping Center parking area ready for the "grand opening" at 6 o'clock this evening of the 1977 Homecoming celebration, sponsored by the Granite City Jaycees.

The traditional homecoming will continue through Sunday, with operating hours for the midway from 6 p.m. until midnight today and Friday, and from 2 p.m. until midnight on Saturday and Sunday.

Park program at GC schools

Only seven centers are being operated this year for the Granite City Park district. Children in Grades 2 through 6 may register any day to attend the seven-week program at the school nearest their home. Daily programs are on Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Centers are located at: Logan, Nameoki, Parkview, Wilson, Niedringhaus and Webster Schools and the Park District Community Center.

Two kiddie' matinee periods from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday are expected to attract the younger set, when carnival rides will cost only 25 cents each, according to Al Delay, project chairman.

Concession stands will be in operation and live entertainment by The Sting Rays, a popular music group, will be spotlighted, starting at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday. No admission fee will be charged homecoming patrons for the live concert.

The Hurricane, Rock-O-Plane and Haunted House are among the midway rides this year, with several other rides being featured for the smaller children, Delay said.

BREAK INTO SCHOOL

Some musical instruments were believed stolen during a break-in at Frohardt School, 2040 Johnson Road, between 4:30 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday. A plexiglass window was removed to gain entry. There were no signs of ransacking or vandalism. An inventory is to be conducted to determine what was stolen.

Faces 6 charges after chase; police car hit

Denny E. Robertson, 18, of 2510, Roosevelt Ave., was charged with criminal damage to city property and with five traffic offenses after an alleged chase during which Robertson's auto made a fast "U" turn and then struck the police car which was in pursuit.

Patrolmen Ed Wiesehan and Donald Petrillo were patrolling near West 22nd Street and Missouri Avenue when a man said he had just seen a young woman jump out of a red auto with Missouri license plates and run away from the car.

Police searched for the car and found it at 22nd Street and Illinois Avenue where the driver and a passenger appeared to be searching for the woman.

The red lights of the patrol car were turned on, but the red auto left at a high rate of speed on West 23rd Street to Dewey Avenue.

At that intersection, the auto turned around quickly and attempted to pass the squad car, but the front of the red car struck the left rear of the police car.

The red car then turned into an alley and fled at about 60 miles-per-hour, police reported. The squad car was turned around and chased the car through the alley, right onto West 20th Street, right on Denver Street and right on West 21st Street where the red car turned into a parking lot, stopped, and the driver turned off the headlights, attempting to hide, police said.

Police arrested the driver and questioned the passenger. The young woman who jumped from the car also was located and said an argument developed between the driver and passenger and she fled to avoid being caught in a fight. The passenger and young woman were released without charges being filed. In addition to a charge of criminal damage to city property, Robertson was issued traffic citations alleging fleeing from police, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, driving 60 mph in a 15 mph zone and not having a driver's license.

Mrs. Williams dies at 61

Mrs. Juanita V. (Warden) Williams, 61, of 1101 Reynolds St., Madison, became ill while visiting her son, Clyde L. Williams, in San Diego, Calif., and was taken to the Chula Vista Community Hospital where she died early Wednesday morning.

A lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, Mrs. Williams had been in ill health for one year. She was a member of Trinity Tabernacle in Madison, and also belonged to the Quad-City Navy Mothers and the Women of the Moose.

Her husband, Clyde Williams, died in 1978.

Survivors include two other sons, Floyd and James Williams, both of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Joyce Rodgers of Madison; two sisters, Mrs. Delores Barton of Salem, Mo., and Mrs. Dorothy Tolal of Granite City, and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Burglary charges

Robert E. Garner, 34, of 2088 Washington Ave., was charged with burglary and a warrant has been issued charging Andrew W. Wiley, 31, of 1406 State St., with burglary in connection with Monday's break-in at Feder-Huber Furniture, Niedringhaus and Delmar Avenues.

Wiley was in St. Elizabeth Hospital this week recuperating from an injury to his throat suffered when his shirt became tightly wrapped around his neck in his jail cell.

An officer heard glass breaking Monday morning and saw someone outside a broken window on the Delmar Avenue side of the furniture store.

He called for assistance, and before squad cars arrived the man allegedly entered the store. Garner was arrested near the window, hiding behind a chair in the display window, it was alleged.

A crash was heard near the office and a second man allegedly was seen, in the office. Force had to be used to arrest him, officers said.

Later, Wiley was found unconscious in his jail cell with his shirt wrapped around his throat. One officer appeared to have been tied around the upper cell bars, but became untied when weight was put on it, officers speculated. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he was admitted.

Garner was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 11:25 p.m. Monday.

Girl, 2, is hit by car

Angela Crossen, 2, daughter of Clifford Crossen, Collinsville, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital here at 10:55 p.m. Wednesday for abrasions to the left arm and leg and transferred to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Belleville for observation at the father's request.

The infant was playing alone in gravel at the north end of the concession stand at the Third Street ball diamond, Highland and Third streets, Madison, when an auto driven by Carl A. Camp, 17, of 918 Jackson St., Madison, scorekeeper at the diamond, struck the child.

A witness said that where the child was playing made it very difficult for the driver to see her.

Appointment fills School Board vacancy at Venice

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

George W. Wade Jr., 431 Lincoln Ave., Venice, received the unanimous approval of the Venice Board of Education last night to fill the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of Mrs. Jacqueline Leatherman.

The new board member is a U.S. Navy veteran and an employee for the past four years in the Security Division at Granite City Steel.

Wade, 32, was nominated for the board position by John Boush and seconded by Earl W. Hogan. The nomination was approved unanimously without discussion.

The appointment of Wade concludes a stormy period for the Venice School Board.

The resignation of Mrs. Leatherman on May 18 left a virtual three-three tie on voting the appointment of a successor to fill the vacancy until the next school district election in April 1978.

Members were unable to reach agreement on a single person as late as a special meeting held last week.

Should the board not have made an appointment last night, a special election would have been necessary, called by the superintendent of Madison County Educational Service Region.

It appeared the standoff on a nominee was drawn along the lines of a factional dispute between members, resulting from the election on April 9.

A proposal that the board agree on the appointment from among candidates who ran in the April election was discarded when neither faction could agree on a specific person.

Apparently, each side was determined not to give a majority vote on the board to anyone who may have shown a partisan alignment in the election, it was learned.

A native of Pulaski, Ill., Wade lived in Madison for six years before moving to Venice about a year ago. He is a graduate of Lincoln High School in East St. Louis and concluded his military service in the U.S. Navy in April 1967.

Wade is married and he and his wife, Margarette, are the parents of two children, Wanda, 11 years, and Kenneth, 7. Both youngsters attend Venice School.

After the new board member was seated and received congratulations, John Henry Williams, who collected only 35 votes fewer than Hogan in the April election, asked to address the board.

"I think you have selected a fine gentleman in George Wade. He is a man. I hope you can all work together," Williams stated.

Williams' name was among those proposed for the appointment, it was learned.

In other business, a lengthy discussion ensued concerning a proposed cutback in pupil transportation within the city limits in the 1977-78 school year.

If service could be reduced by one bus, the district would save about $10,000, it was explained.

"Should we not cut back on bus service and we go ahead and purchase the proposed vanibus, we will have to borrow next year against future taxes in the transportation fund," said of Schools Robert Vickers stated.

Board Member John Boush said, "Well, I know one thing if you cut out the bus at one end of town we will have problems, more problems than we can handle."

"Let's lay this out on the table," Supt. Vickers said. "You know if we cut out the service in the logical area it can cause some racial problems."

"Remember, we receive reimbursement for children transported from Eagle Park (an unincorporated black community south of Madison city limits, but part of the Venice School District), and if we eliminate bus service from an area mostly ridden by the white children, where we get no reimbursement because it's in town, we are going to have problems," he said.

"I know we have anticipation warrants outstanding in the educational fund for the past two or six years, and now in the building fund for two years. Can we afford to go into debt in the transportation fund?" Vickers asked.

It was pointed out that borrowing money last year cost the Venice District $18,000 in the educational fund and $680 in the building fund.

Madison County Secretary Jack Tolliver said, "There's one thing I know, you can't borrow yourself out of debt. That's for sure."

Part of the discussion focused on transporting children in kindergarten through Grade 1 only, noting these are the ones of greatest concern.

"We've cut out the band and we don't want to do that and we cut back on some athletics and we didn't want to do that either. It looks like we'll have to cut out some bus transportation now," Tolliver said.

The area where reductions in service is being proposed is south of Main Street in Venice. About 15 pupils from different grade levels live in that area.

Further discussion by the board is necessary before a decision is made, it was agreed.

Thieves break into truck

Officials of Central Hardware, Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, are continuing an inventory to determine what was stolen from a truck trailer parked at the rear loading dock the store Monday.

A hole, about 18 inches, was broken in the wooden overhead door of the trailer with some boards at the loading dock.

An empty cardboard box, from which a stereo may have been removed, was found near the trailer. Company officials told police they would be notified what was stolen when an inventory is completed. It is believed a large quantity of items was stolen. The trailer was found about half-full after the incident.

Burglar flees

Linda Warren, 3408 Kirkpatrick Homes, awoke at 2:35 a.m. Thursday to find a man standing in her bedroom searching through her purse.

She screamed and the man ran from the apartment. When she tried to call police, she discovered the receiver cord to her upstairs telephone had been torn from the phone.

The kitchen window was forced open to gain entry. Nothing was believed stolen from the apartment.

LOOT ROLLER RINK

Items valued at more than $1,750 were stolen during a burglary at Stopkotte Roller Rink, 1823 Cleveland Blvd., between 7 p.m. Monday and 6:50 p.m. Wednesday. A metal plate over a west side window was removed to gain entry.

Known missing are a $900 amplifier, six pairs of roller skates worth a total of $450, a $400 stereo player and some candy bars.

Mary Zoschak marks 50th year as nurse

Miss Mary Zoschak, a former resident of Granite City, was honored recently in observance of her 50th year as an active registered nurse.

An anniversary mass, held in the chapel at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville, began the "Mary Zoschak Day" celebration. A commemorative tour followed in the Hospital's Centennial Room.

At the annual dinner in May, she was graduated from the local hospital's former School of Nursing in 1927.

Since her graduation a half-century ago, Miss Zoschak has actively practiced her profession in private duty nursing, 15 years as an operating room nurse at Westchester Square Hospital, New York; 20 years in the U.S. Army Nurse Corps; and 14 years at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville.

Her first U.S. Army assignment was in 1943 at Walter Reed Hospital where, as a second lieutenant, she established one of four Army Control Supply departments, a pilot program and a new concept in the military medical service.

As Captain Zoschak, she was assigned to the Pacific Theatre from 1949 to 1953 and served on active duty as an operating room nurse in Korea and Japan.

In Korea, she was in charge of the 868th MASH unit, the receiving area for first field casualties.

After completing her Pacific tour of duty, she was transferred to Letterman Hospital in Neubeck, Germany, where she was a staff nurse and later supervisor in the operating room.

From Letterman, Miss Zoschak was assigned to Fort Reilly, Kans., and then to the U.S. Army Dispensary at St. Louis.

She concluded her military career with the rank of major in the spring of 1963. Miss Zoschak's retirement lasted three months, until July 1963 when she joined the nursing staff at the Belleville hospital. Presently, she is employed as the registered nurse staff development instructor at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and still continues to provide a vital service to humanity.

Miss Zoschak resides with her sister, Mrs. Helen (MacZura) Thomas at 555 N. 88th St., East St. Louis.

A brother, John Zoschak, formerly of Granite City, now lives in Belleville.

Lions to ride bikes to help area's blind, deaf children

The Granite City Lions Club will hold a Bike-A-Thon on Saturday, June 25, to benefit blind and deaf children of the area.

Funds raised will be used to help send blind and deaf children from Granite City to a special Illinois Lions Foundation camp for children in northern Illinois, according to Elmer L. Wortham, chairman of the event.

Twenty members of the club will meet at the beginning of the Madison County Bike Trail on Lake Drive near the railroad tracks, and ride for seven miles toward Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and return.

Sponsors are being asked to donate a certain amount for each mile and members will try to solicit as many sponsors as possible.

Any business, individual or organization wishing to help the Lions with this project by sponsoring a Lion bike rider may call the club president, Harley Davis, at 452-1313.

To qualify for the Lions camp, a child must be legally blind in both eyes, or 20-200 or less in both eyes.

A deaf child must be attending a special education class in the local schools or a program for the deaf.

According to Davis, there are several children in the Quad-City area that fall into these classifications and the Lions want to send as many as possible to camp for two weeks.

10.6% rise in power cost; summertime rate

Electric rate increases granted Illinois Power Company Wednesday by the Illinois Commerce Commission will be implemented throughout the 15,000 square-mile IP service area today, the company said. The area includes this county.

The electric increase of 10.6 per cent approved by the commission will mean about $32,000,000 in new revenue annually for the company, which had asked for a 14.9 increase in a case filed last July.

"Illinois Power believes it presented a strong case for the amount of rate relief requested, and feels the commission would have been justified in giving the full amount," Charles W. Wells, executive vice president of Illinois Power, said.

"If that had been granted, we would still have had the lowest rates in the state of Illinois."

"The increases authorized will strengthen the company's ability to obtain the capital funds necessary to meet future needs of our residential, commercial and industrial customers."

Wells said the company is gratified that the Commerce Commission in reaching its decision gave consideration to the efficiency of operation of the company.

"The company feels that efficient management of its affairs is important not only to the customers we serve but also to the investors in the company," he said.

The officers said Illinois Power appreciates the commission's action approving the rate design suggested.

"We believe it is a forward step in rate-making," he added.

One feature is the extension of seasonal rates, including a lower annual cost for about 160,000 "small use" residential users.

Such customers use a limited amount of kilowatt hours in the summer months to gain the benefit of lower year-around rates with a resulting smaller increase under the new rate structure.

About 276,000 residential customers won't be in that category.

"But the two residential rates provide an incentive for conservation during the peak months of summer," Wells said.

"It is part of an overall load management program the company has been fostering, looking to the wise use of energy."

Illinois Power serves nearly 490,000 electric customers in all classifications.

Hearing on 911 emergency plan Ok jail bidding

The Illinois Commerce Commission is inviting comment on proposed operational and technical standards for 911 (uniform telephone number) systems in the state.

In a resolution unanimously adopted in mid-June, the commission called for public hearings to be held to evaluate the standards which establish minimum service requirements for all emergency communication systems.

The initial public hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday, July 8, in the commission's Springfield office, at 527 E. Capitol Ave.

The proposed standards were formulated over a ten-month period by the commission's "911 Advisory Panel."

The panel is composed of representatives of public safety agencies, telephone utilities and professional associations whose membership is directly concerned with the health and safety of Illinois citizens.

The commission is overseeing the implementation of 911 and is under legislative directive to adopt technical and operational standards for a statewide emergency communication system before Dec. 31, 1979.

The standards will apply to all public agencies, public safety agencies and telephone companies in Illinois.

Local design committees are to be responsible for planning and implementing individual systems. Commission 911 staff members will attend the initial organizational meetings.

The Madison County Board Wednesday authorized Granite City architect Henry Gabriel to advertise for bids for construction of a new Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Earlier bids for the jail exceeded the amount of money the county had available for the construction, so they were rejected and Gabriel was requested to redesign a smaller, less costly jail building.

The construction is to be financed by a $4 million bond issue the county has already passed.

Two on-site hearings set

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct two on-site public zoning hearings in Chouteau and Namekdi Townships on Wednesday, June 22.

The first hearing will be at 9:35 a.m. Wednesday on Chouteau Island where Elsie Brauch is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a mobile home. She has been residing there on a three-year special use permit which has expired.

The property can be reached by going west on the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge, taking the first road to the right, under two bridges and past the water works, to a private road near the levee. At the end of the private road, by the river, is the mobile home. It is in an agricultural district of Chouteau Township.

The second hearing will be held at 10:10 a.m. Wednesday at 4331 Breckenridge Lane, where James Howard is requesting a special use permit to operate an insulation contracting business from his home, known as Aero-Foam Insulation, Inc. The property is in an R-3 single-family residential district of Namekdi Township.

Nameoki town rates to raise less than levied

Tax rates totaling 37.4 cents per $100 assessed valuation have been certified by Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles for Nameoki Township general town purposes.

The new rates mean that during next year's tax collection, the owner of a home assessed at $10,000, would pay $37.40 to support the general town fund, general assistance fund and municipal retirement fund.

The rates are to support levies totaling $184,416, but actually will raise only $177,000 if there is full collection, since the general assistance levy exceeds the amount which would be raised under its legal maximum rate of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The state reimburses over-spending in the general assistance fund after tax anticipation warrants have been obtained.

Miss Bowles established a rate of 34.45 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the town fund. The rate, when applied to an assessed valuation of $47,489.122 for the township would raise $116,110 with full collection. The levy for the town fund is $15,976.

The rate for general assistance is set at 10 cents, the legal maximum, which would raise $47,489 with full collection. The levy for general assistance is $54,440, but the state will reimburse spending in excess of the amount raised through taxation.

Miss Bowles established a rate of 2.95 cents for the municipal retirement fund which would generate $14,009 with full collection. The levy for that fund is $14,000.

The new rates and levies were presented to the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors at the board's regular meeting Monday evening.

Scouter picnic at Wilson Park

A picnic for all Scout leaders and their families in the Quad-Cities is to be held at Wilson Park Shelter Two near Benton Avenue on Tuesday, June 28, from 6:30 p.m. until 9 p.m., according to Ben Miller, district chairman.

Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer leaders are being encouraged to attend the pollock event.

According to Miller, the district committee will explain "parenting events" for the next program year beginning in September.

Parents of boys in the program also are welcome to bring their families, according to Miller.

TRUMBONE RECITAL BY THOMAS D. BULL

Thomas D. Bull, 2444 E. 24th St., Granite City, will be presented in his senior recital Wednesday, June 22, at 8:15 p.m. in the Lovjoy Library auditorium at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

A student of the bass trombone at the university, he will be assisted by Terry Koons, piano, and Terry Hines, percussion.

Donald White's "Sonata" will begin the program, followed by Alan Rapp's "Rock." Bull will then play Vladislav Bereznevich's "Concert Sketch No. 5." The program also will include George Telemann's "Fantasie in F Minor" and Ferdinand David's "Concerto, Opus 4."

Press freedom unique among liberties as the protector of the other freedoms

Spring 1977 commencement address at the University of Missouri, Grand View College, Albia, Ia., by Robert W. Larson, publisher of the Albia Union-Register and Tribune, a newspaper without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter.

The right to know is something all of us take for granted. We're mystified by other rights.

We're used to the massive amount of news in our publications that we can't understand, for instance, the thinking of the Russian government in two recent cases.

In one instance, in February, that government hesitated to let the people know of a disastrous snow fire in an elevator shaft.

In another, a preliminary report of an earthquake appeared in Pravda several days after the event.

And identifying problems depends on our right to know our ability to understand, and our capacity to evaluate those things.

Those who sponsored the First Amendment saw that a free society could not exist without free communication.

And they believed with Thomas Jefferson that "the basic of our government is the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right, and were it to me to decide whether I should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

Thirty years ago the Commission on Freedom of the Press, under the chairmanship of Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, outlined the needs of society, struggling in the aftermath of World War II.

These are the five basic functions of a free and responsible press as that commission presented them:

1. The media should provide a truthful, comprehensive and intelligent account of the day's events in a context which gives them meaning.

2. The media must be a forum for the exchange of comment and criticism.

3. Third, the press must be a means of projecting the opinions and attitudes of the groups in the society to one another.

4. Fourth, it must provide a medium for the clarification of the goals and values of the society.

5. And finally, the press must be a means of reaching every member of the society by the currents of information, thought and feeling which the press supplies.

Freedom of the press means freedom to receive information, to know what's going on in the world about us.

It's a freedom which the media must stand up to defend frequently in the courts.

Our right to know was affirmed in a decision in the Supreme Court of Iowa in a case last December against the Des Moines Register and Tribune, a case in which another newspaper, two broadcasting stations and the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, entered as interveners.

In that case, the Iowa Supreme Court quoted a United States Supreme Court decision: "The freedom of the press to publish that information appears to us to be of critical importance to our type of government which the citizenry is the final judge of the proper conduct of public business."

I could cite literally hundreds of court decisions — including the famous New York Times vs. Sullivan case — which protect our right to know.

One might conclude that after 200 years everything that could be said about the First Amendment and freedom of information had been said.

But the last several weeks have been a First Amendment and freedom of the press bonanza at the U.S. Supreme Court.

There were free speech victories affecting local, state and federal government, plus two exciting oral arguments about presidential tapes and human cannibalism.

Recent decisions of the court suggest that it is solidly convinced that the First Amendment guarantees, among other rights, two essential freedoms.

One is the freedom to advertise.

One must report accurately; it must be a forum for the exchange of comment and criticism.

These two freedoms mirror the society around it; it must present and clarify the goals and values of society.

And in doing all of this, the press has a constitutional right to be wrong. The New York Times vs. Sullivan case affirms this.

The press cannot function properly in reporting the activities of an imperfect society. And when it fails, if it does so without libel and without malice, then its right to make a mistake is upheld.

The First Amendment is our guarantee that we, as citizens in this democracy, will have access to the information we need to make the decisions required of us.

All of our other liberties are dependent upon the freedoms guaranteed us in the First Amendment.

William E. Hockins, professor emeritus at Harvard University, put it this way:

"Freedom of speech and press is close to the central meaning of all liberty."

When men cannot freely convey their thoughts to one another, no other liberty is secure.

Where freedom of expression exists, the term of a free society is already present and a means is at hand for extension of liberty.

"Free expression is therefore unique among liberties as preeminent and promoter of the others."

That's our guarantee that we can live in a free society, that we can help shape that society to our aims and desires, and that we can help it to become the society we want for ourselves and for our children.

Local-level control of non-taxed state college unjustified

The Illinois House often finds itself in agreement with Senate actions but ought to give serious thought before acting on legislation to set up a seven-member governing board for State Community College of East St. Louis.

Since the college is funded entirely by state and federal funds, one wonders why final authority should be shifted from the Illinois Community College Board to the local level.

Past embellements of more than $800,000 by college employees have been alleged, proving that the existing system is inadequate. But if the law is to be changed, it ought to assure procedural improvement, rather than more of the same or worse.

All other college districts are being operated by seven-member elected boards and financed through a combination of local-level property taxes, state grants and tuition.

The eight-year-old East St. Louis facility — on an "experimental" basis — was not required to have local funding, and the state board must submit conclusions and recommendations about it to the General Assembly by Jan. 1, 1982.

Quick action likely in this state to fight child pornography

Illinois appears to be moving faster than Congress to crack down on child pornography.

In the wake of a 5-4 U.S. Supreme Court ruling upholding this state's obscenity law, the Illinois Senate has passed legislation to establish penalties of up to a year in prison and a $25,000 fine for a first offense against children and up to ten years and $50,000 for subsequent "child porn" offenses.

An Illinois House leadoff witness before the U.S. House Judiciary Committee's Crime Subcommittee. In research for his course on child abuse prevention, Frank Ostrowski of the Lewis University faculty, Glen Ellyn, told Congress he had found a "total lack of protective laws" or regulations so vague that "meaningful prosecution is impossible."

Assailing "traffickers in pornography engaged in degradation of the innocent," he said HR 3913 now under consideration would aid in defining this as child abuse and neglect.

Osaka urged avoidance of "time-consuming and often futile debates on the prevailing definitions of obscenity and pornography."

Instead, he would focus on "the victimized and often traumatized child," with steps taken to counter "the clear danger to the dependent children involved and to the basic moral fiber of the American society. Let's not be satisfied until fail-safe safeguards are provided for children."

University area suggested as regional highway office site

The question of where to locate two proposed new Illinois prisons remains undecided, and even the SIUE campus has been suggested as one possible site. But more serious consideration is being given to using a small slice of the 2,600-acre campus for a new Illinois Highway Division District Eight headquarters.

It will be recalled that Governor James R. Thompson has canceled the Transportation Department's plan to buy 32 acres near Route 159 and Interstate 64 for a highway building.

Aside from the questions of whether the price was right and the decision was sufficiently impartial, it made little sense to situate such a headquarters in the midst of relatively costly land surrounding a commercial area.

The main state highway office is located at the circumferential route around Springfield, and a similarly unselected tract in the Madison-St. Clair Counties area might be best for the regional office structure.

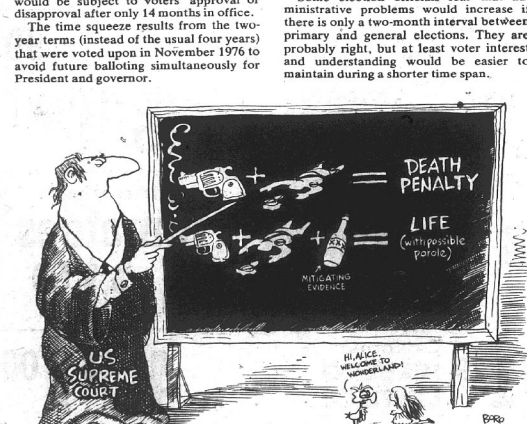

Will voters love them in September as they do in March?

Illinois Senate enactment by a 43-7 roll call of a bill changing the Illinois primary from March to September tends to reduce pressure on such new officials as Governor James R. Thompson and Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon, each of whom otherwise would be subject to voters' approval or disapproval after only 14 months in office.

The time squeeze results from the two-year terms (instead of the usual four years) that were voted upon in November 1976 to avoid future balloting simultaneously for President and governor.

Although election "coat tails" can work both ways, aiding state or national candidates and helping or hurting both parties, it was decided to try to eliminate the possibility of "top of the ticket" voting patterns.

Some election officials fear that administrative problems would increase if there is only a two-month interval between primary and general elections. They are probably right, but at least voter interest and understanding would be easier to maintain during a shorter time span.

Area sautes U.S. stars and stripes

June 14 marked the 200th anniversary of the U.S. flag, making it among the oldest national flags in existence.

A number of myths developed during this period as to how the flag came into being.

The stories about Betsy Ross making a flag for George Washington and a committee of Congress have no known basis in fact, although the Flag House on Arch Street in Philadelphia is a historical museum. It's known only that she made some ship flags for Pennsylvania.

There is a wholly imaginary story of a girl in Portsmouth, N. H., making a Stars and Stripes from ballroom dresses for John Paul Jones in July 1777 which was flown from the Bon Homme deck when the ship was sunk.

Jones does have a genuine association with a version of the Stars and Stripes. He hoisted the "American Stars" for his victory in the Irish Sea over the HMS Drake on April 29, 1778, the first known baptism of fire for Old Glory.

On Feb. 14, he had obtained the first international recognition for the Stars and Stripes when the French fleet returned his salute from the Ranger off Quiberon Bay.

At first there was no flag for the union of colonies fighting for their rights under the Congress, and Washington used the Pine Tree Flag for his ships in Massachusetts Bay.

There is a letter of Washington's, noting that "we had hoisted the Union Flag in compliment to the United Colonies" on "the day which gave being to the New Army."

That day was Jan. 1, 1776, when the Minutemen and others, previously serving as volunteers or militia, were enlisted as soldiers of the Continental Congress.

This "Great Union Flag" or "Continental Colors" was hoisted to the top of a 76-foot mast on the top of Prospect Hill in the town of Charlestown, and was clearly visible to the British garrison in Boston.

The Continental Colors was the father of the Stars and Stripes but the reasons for its design are not known.

It had the now familiar 13 stripes of alternating red and white, symbolizing the 13 colonies, but instead of a field of stars, it carried the Union Flag of Great Britain, for American independence was not yet declared nor desired.

Little evidence has survived about the flags actually used during the American Revolution.

The modern spirit of American national patriotism did not exist then, which was a reflection of citizens was primarily for their own colonies. A national flag was mainly used at sea or over forts.

Congress took no action on the Continental Colors and didn't specify the Stars and Stripes until nearly a year after the Declaration of Independence had made another flag necessary.

On June 14, 1777, in reviewing matters dealing with naval and maritime affairs, Congress resolved: "That the flag of the United States be 13 stripes alternate red and white, that the Union be 13 stars white in a blue field representing a new constellation."

At the urging of Peter Wendover, representative from New York, Congress on April 4, 1818,

Transfer of deputies is criticized

To the Editor: Concerning the investigation committee County Deputy Sheriff Association, I think that taking two of their best deputies and putting them in the jail for work is ignorant.

The county needs those deputies in their cars, patrolling the roads and streets.

Another thing, if deputies are being threatened because they have talked to the FBI, then let them go to the FBI and let them sweat.

It's getting pretty bad when the higher-ups caution deputies about talking to the FBI. What is being hidden, and why?

I think that it's about time for Madison County people to start opening their eyes, instead of sitting back and not getting involved.

Now if we really want to help clean up Madison County, let's get on the ball and send letters to our congressman, governor and the U.S. attorney and tell them we are concerned and want something done, before someone gets hurt.

JOHN HENRY WILLIAMS

Says Lucco conscientious legislator

To the Editor: I would like for the citizens of the 56th Legislative District to know that the Lucco family is a very good family.

In his short time as a state representative Rep. Lucco has made it to be one of the greatest and most dedicated representatives of all time. He is for all the people, rich and poor, whites and blacks.

He is willing to listen to the people and take time out and come to, even the smallest group of people.

If he can't make it, he will send an aide or someone else in his place.

I have heard about how good a basketball coach he used to be at Edwardsville High School. I know myself that he is the finest man you could ever meet. Keep up the good work, Joe Lucco.

JOHN HENRY WILLIAMS

Newborn infants' sale called immoral

To the Editor: Mrs. Schaffly further stated, "Where there is a willing seller and a willing buyer, the sale moves from an unwanted environment into a home with loving adoptive parents, who are the crime."

Workers in the field of adoption know that money alone does not guarantee a happy, loving environment.

In addition, a couple's desire to adopt a baby is not a sufficient reason to place a child in their home.

Their intense desire for a child may be based on unrealistic, selfish and neurotic needs.

Workers in the field of adoption conduct thorough investigations of any prospective adoptive parents.

The future welfare of the child is of utmost importance. The couple wishing to adopt is not given preference because it can "pay" for a child.

The natural mother is usually responsible for her medical expenses. She, however, does not make a "profit" by allowing her baby to be adopted.

Since Mrs. Schaffly is a well-known and prolific writer and speaker, her opinions can have great impact on her readers and listeners. I implore the religious and community leaders and the workers in the field of adoption to use their influence in denouncing the immorality of black market babies.

Praise for Occupational Safety reforms

By RICHARD L. LESHER
President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Good news! That champion federal nit-picker, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, is going to be born again in the Carter Administration.

At least, so says the Department of Labor, in which OSHA is located.

Dr. Eula Bingham, Labor assistant secretary in charge of OSHA, acknowledges that the agency "has been enforcing rules that have caused us to come under ridicule and attack, and have undermined the whole climate of OSHA's work. We have to admit where the failures and mistakes are and get on with the real job of saving lives."

OSHA's problems are traceable in part to the circumstances of its birth, and in part to the bureaucratic mentality.

When the agency came into existence, it "nationalized" literally thousands of pre-existing safety codes and standards.

Many of these standards were too detailed, some of them were obsolete, but most of them were good.

— until OSHA — voluntary, which permits some "common sense" with common sense.

OSHA eliminated the common sense factor and began to spend most of its time and energy measuring the size of restroom partitions, the height of fire extinguishers, and the width of aisles.

There are over 450 pages of official standards, including such detail as 35 pages of rules specifying the design of "exit" signs, so OSHA inspectors could find something wrong in the course of an inspection.

This dedicated pursuit of the ridiculous by the inept left a nationwide trail of victimized business people livid with rage.

The President's own brother, Bill Carter, testified that he experiences many small business operators have had in trying to cope with OSHA.

In the May issue of Nation's Business magazine, he says he has to close down one plant or shell plant and build another, because "we simply could not meet OSHA requirements in the old plant."

He estimates that OSHA and Environmental Protection Agency dictates adds 20 percent to the cost of the new facility, and still they are not satisfied.

Pointing to the top of a grain elevator where the shelling operation starts, he says, "We had to spend $400 for some guards up there, but one man might go up there once a year."

Meanwhile, OSHA wasn't spending enough time on the big, significant threats to health and safety.

The General Accounting Office — a Congressional watchdog — recently criticized the agency for issuing fewer than 20 health standards since its birth in 1970.

Dr. Bingham proposes three key reforms:

1. Get rid of as many of the nit-picking rules as possible, and stop enforcing those that remain.

2. Concentrate inspections on high-hazard industries, especially big high-hazard industries.

3. Help businesses — especially small businesses — find ways to become safer, rather than trying to find excuses for penalizing them.

Well, three cheers for Dr. Bingham and Labor Secretary Ray Marshall. If they manage to do what they have proposed, it will be a major victory for both employers and workers.

The only disadvantage is that I won't have OSHA to kick around anymore. But that's OK — there's still the Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Mounting work load confronts aldermen

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Granite City Council members will be confronted with one of the heaviest agendas in recent years in their June 21 council session due to a major work load that remained incomplete when the regular council meeting adjourned last week.

The council's 11 p.m. curfew, fixed by ordinance, caught the council in the midst of action on a series of 13 ordinances and resolutions on the agenda of the June 7 meeting in the council chambers on the third floor of the city hall.

The meeting ended with one major ordinance still unread on the council floor or presented for a vote, and two other controversial ordinances placed on first reading instead of given final passage, which means that those bills also will come before the aldermen again in the upcoming meeting on June 21.

Since the Ordinance Committee actions are listed second on the council meeting agenda, adjournment during that committee's presentations left 14 other committees still unheard from when Mayor Schuler called the aldermen's attention to the fact that it was 11 p.m. Council sessions convene at 8 p.m. and are to conclude at 11 p.m., according to terms of the city's ordinance governing meetings and their procedures.

Considerable time was used during last week's meeting in the discussion of an ordinance authorizing the issuance of $28.5 million in revenue bonds to aid the St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion program. More than an hour's discussion on that issue ended in enactment of the ordinance, but only by the minimum vote necessary for it to carry.

Lengthy discussion also was involved in consideration of a resolution by which Granite City would accept as a gift in the future a 176-bed nursing home which is proposed for construction at 2900 Mockingbird Lane.

Jerry Maeras, Madison, developer of the $1.9 million project which will be financed with a private bond issue, addressed the council to explain that the resolution provided for the nursing home to be deeded to the city after the bonds are paid off in 20 years.

Aldermen Charles Douglas of the First Ward and Fred Schuman Jr. of the Second Ward spearheaded opposition to that ordinance along with Paul Ray Bowler, alderman of the Seventh Ward. Bowler told the aldermen that as a citizen representing a delegation of area residents he had asked "many questions" about the nursing home project in council sessions more than a year ago. "I never got any answers," Bowler said.

The council members reviewed various points concerning the project, particularly the issue of drainage. City Engineer Monroe Brewer said the drainage plans for the project have been cleared and that drainage in the area presents no problem.

Schuman asked the council: "Is this a genuine governmental affair or is it a proprietary affair of a private corporation. I am against using taxpayers' power to back a private undertaking and possibly incurring their later debts."

On a motion by Ordinance Committee Chairman Roy Poulos to suspend the rules to place the resolution on final passage, five aldermen cast "no" votes, resulting in a vote of 8 to 5 to suspend the rules for final passage. Ten votes are needed to suspend the rules.

The resolution was then placed on first reading.

The other ordinance placed on first reading instead of final passage was a bill to control the installation, operation and maintenance of emergency alarm systems which are now being installed by the Police Department.

Douglas said he believed action on that bill should be delayed to give council members an opportunity to study it more thoroughly.

"There are some things in there I don't like," Douglas said. "One of them is the provision for enforcement which permits the fire chief, the police chief or the city inspector to go into anyone's home at any time to inspect alarms.

"I don't think there is enough control over such inspections and I don't think the officials have a right to go into a home just on a reasonable notice as stated in this bill," Douglas continued.

Five aldermen opposed a suspension of rules for which a minimum of ten votes was needed. The ordinance then was placed on first reading unanimously.

Adjournment of last week's council meeting eliminated action on any business to be presented by the Street and Alley Committee, the Police Committee, Fire and Water, Lights, Negotiating, Intergovernmental, Planning and Zoning, Air Pollution, Pollution Plant, Special Sewer, Traffic, City Hall, Sanitation and City Buildings Committees.

The Street and Alley Committee had scheduled action on bids for motor fuel tax contracts for maintenance of city streets and a discussion of the purchase of a duplicating machine for Civil Defense.

The Planning and Zoning Committee also had scheduled notices on meetings by the City Plan Commission and the Board of Appeals.

The City Council has no regular meeting on the second Tuesday of each month, which means that business accumulates over a two-week period before the regular meeting on the third Tuesday. Consequently, this accumulation of business will be added to the work load already remaining from last week's session when the aldermen convened June 21.

Some feeding wheat to hogs

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Agricultural Advisor

With the price of wheat at the present time, hog producers may find it competitive as a partial substitute for corn in the ration.

Wheat can be substituted for corn in the swine ration. Dick Carlisle, University of Illinois swine specialist, recommends that no more than half the corn in a ration be replaced with wheat.

Wheat has a protein level that is about 103 per cent of corn. If you replace half the corn in a ration with wheat, you can reduce the protein supplement by about 15 pounds per ton.

Wheat should be ground along with the corn in the ration. If the wheat is not ground, a lot of the wheat will pass through the pig's digestive system without being utilized.

The next question a producer often asks is about using wheat in more than 50 per cent of the ration. This is not recommended because of palatability problems. Because of the fitness of the ground wheat, the pig has a difficult time eating it.

The University of Illinois Agronomy Day is being held today at the South Agronomy Farm in Urbana.

The wagon tour will take about one and a half hours and will include discussion on equipment to plant soybeans in wheat, construction of pole buildings, solar heat for grain drying and the effects of soil compaction by large equipment.

The Plant Diagnostic Clinic will be available this year for farmers to bring plant samples or insects for diagnosis or identification.

Exhibits will be available providing the latest information on corn rootworm and soybean cyst nematode.

Two new stops are offered this year. A National Weather Service representative will explain the new agricultural weather service that provides daily weather information affecting Illinois farmers.

Other topics on the agronomy tours are corn breeding, soybean varieties, replanting, double cropping, the current insect situation, plant diseases, soil management, grain crop outlook, weed control and soil fertility.

Interest in horses has been increasing the past few years. A pair of horse care is having proper equipment and facilities to care for your horse.

We have available at the Madison County Extension office a "horse housing and equipment handbook."

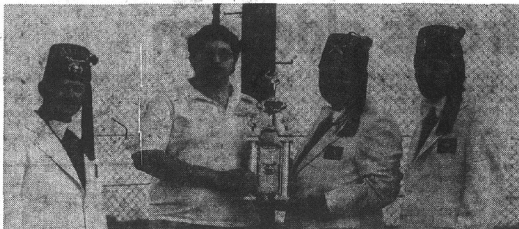

The book has plans for: housing, tack room equipment, fences, gates, jumps, Dutch doors, mineral feeders, loading chutes, show boxes and breeding stalls.

The book has suggested layouts for box stalls and tie stalls. It also includes a discussion of materials that can be used in construction of equipment and facilities.

Insects are a problem this time of year for many homeowners. To help them solve their insect problems, we have available at the Extension office, 900 Hillside, Circular 900 "Insect Pest Management Guide for Home, Yard and Garden."

This leaflet covers insect control recommendations in the vegetable garden, flower garden, trees and shrubs, lawn insects, animal and nuisance insects plus food and structural insects. Each insect is listed with the crop affected and the chemical control recommendations.

To obtain a free copy of the insect control guide, Quad-Cityans may contact the Extension office in Edwardsville by calling 656-7200.

Surgette nurse at St. Elizabeth back on the job after 20 years

Surgette nurse Gen Hellrich defies the estimations of every social critic marketing fiction which tells about the "cold and impersonal" beings who compose the 20th Century society, according to St. Elizabeth Hospital authorities. Despite today's personal demands that tend to develop hard-core individuals, Mrs. Hellrich has managed to retain her sensitivity to warmth while still pursuing a career, caring for a family and meeting life's trials.

She is faithful to her professional duties, only she executes them with a personality comparable to a real Mrs. Santa Claus who holds fast to a belief that goodness in people is not difficult to discover, nor to prompt, her associates say.

A 1943 graduate of St. Louis University, she has returned to formal nursing after a 20-year absence. She had spent seven summers working as a Boy Scouts' camp nurse, when she decided to go back to school for a refresher course. She had it an appropriate time for "the old nurse," as she described herself, to get back into the swing of things, she relates.

After all, she explained, her children were grown, had careers of their own; and, besides, there is only so much dusting a person can do.

"It was difficult at first — just like starting nurses' training all over again," But, she said, "Mom just isn't content to spend the rest of her days in a rocker."

She successfully completed her refresher coursework in November 1974. Later she landed the job as "Surgette" nurse at St. Elizabeth and considers herself "fortunate" to have done so.

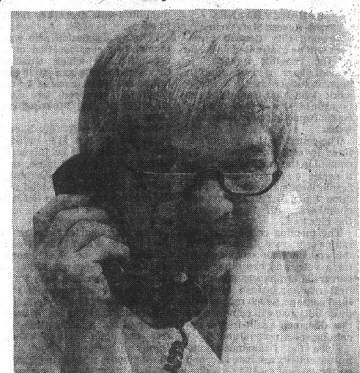

Working "straight days was a necessity for me. I have a 14-year-old daughter with Downs Syndrome and I have to be there when she gets home from school," she said.

With eight children, Mrs. Hellrich and her husband, Henry, attest to the hectic familial involvement such parents' experience. Yet, neither of them view the time spent as a requirement or a necessity, and, each child in his or her own way has earned the reflected pride of both parents.

Three of the Hellrich's sons are in the engineering field, another son is a career businessman, one daughter teaches special education in Australia and two other daughters are in the health care field, one in medical records and another in nursing.

"I'm proud," she said, "because they've achieved the things they had set for themselves."

And the Hellrich's 14-year-old Margaret is no exception to that remark. Because she and her husband were so accepting of their daughter's condition, others followed suit.

MRS. GEN HELLRICH
Heads Surgette Program

"It was devastating at first — almost more than I could take — but you have to make up your mind to accept it." From that point, "We were able to explain to our children that Margaret was different, and their response was just beautiful," she said.

She and her husband have been active in the Tri-City Area Association for the Retarded for over 10 years. During the first years of their involvement, the entire family worked as volunteers at a summer camp for exceptional children. At the time, Mrs. Hellrich said her children — much younger then — didn't realize "they were doing anything special. They thought it was just part of their growing up."

The Hellrich's involvement with the Tri-City Association led to their participation in "Parents for Special Education," a local group. Here, they found opportunity to talk with other parents in similar situations and gained knowledge on how they could best aid Margaret in her development.

"If sharing some of our experiences with others would benefit Margaret, that was what we wanted to do," she said.

"Margaret made a different family of us; she taught us that a one-to-one relationship should always take precedence over goals of high achievement," she said.

That learning experience must have made quite an impression on Mrs. Hellrich because it is evidenced in every patient contact. All of them noted the "unmistakable concern she displayed in each case, a concern carried out consciously, yet nevertheless, routinely and sincerely, hospital sources say.

"I want her (Mrs. Hellrich) to know how appreciative I am. She took time with us — she made it a lot easier for me and my daughter," said Granite City resident Mrs. Claudia Thimsen, whose little girl, Amanda, 4, was in the hospital for surgery.

Mrs. Dorothy Hunt of Granite City, had similar comments after her daughter, Karen, 10, went through her first hospital experience.

"She (Mrs. Hellrich) was one of the first people I came in contact with. She was interested in and paid a lot of attention to my daughter, thus easing her fears. I can't say enough about her — she was wonderful," Mrs. Hunt said.

Patients and parents of small children say they are usually surprised when they get a call at home from Mrs. Hellrich asking how they are doing and could anything be done to improve the out-patient surgery program. Undoubtedly, these former patients think she is required to do the follow-up as part of her job.

But to assume her inquiries are mandatory is incorrect. Mrs. Hellrich has a little box in her custody which is a complete patient file, with condition reports and patient suggestions.

"No, I don't have to call these people — I just thought it would be a nice thing to do. I guess you can tell I like people," she said.

Senior Citizens plan bus trip

Plans to tour Six Flags-over-America were completed by members of the Merrier Senior Citizens, according to the president, John Winklemier.

He announced cost of admission is $7.50 and free bus transportation will be furnished.

The meeting was held at the Senior Citizen Center, 1920 Edison Ave. Blood pressure tests are taken at the center on the first Monday and third Wednesday of the month, it was announced.

Arrangements were also made to host a pot-luck dinner at 2 p.m. on Thursday, June 23, to be followed by games. Mrs. Peggy Jones, of the VFW Auxiliary will present a flag to the group during the session.

The president reported the nutrition session will be closed on June 22 as senior citizens are invited to a luncheon at North High School. The affair will be sponsored by the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging and the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens.

Three new members, Alberta Ethington, Helen Gantcheff and Pauline Brown were welcomed

Honor community workers

Program assistants and community workers employed through Consumer and Homemaking Education Program (CHEP) and Expanded Foods and Nutrition Program (EFNEP) have as their goal helping thousands of Illinois residents make better use of all their resources.

From Madison County, 15 ladies have just been honored for their work as community workers and program assistants with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

"Extension workers have learned that homemakers with limited incomes are often unable to attend group meetings — the traditional method of getting Extension information to homemakers," says Dr. Constance McKenna, assistant director of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

"Rather than ask homemakers to come to us, we go directly to them in their homes with the help of the program assistants and community workers."

"They work on a neighbor-to-neighbor basis."

"Because most live in the neighborhoods where they work, they know from first-hand experience the problems homemakers face."

The EFNEP and CHEP educational programs are supervised by Extension Service home economics advisers in Madison County, Valerie Tullman, Catherine Mauck and Darlene Heer, who in turn are supported by program leaders and specialists at the University of Illinois.

The help that program assistants and community workers bring to a program family is tailored to the needs and circumstances of the individual family.

CHEP program assistants can help with money management, community resources, food buying, clothes selection and health information.

EFNEP program assistants are able to teach nutrition, meal planning, food preparation, food preservation and gardening to those families who need this information.

Over 200 program assistants and community workers from all parts of Illinois were honored for their contributions to improving the quality of life in the state at a two-day conference in Urbana.

The conference theme was "Reach More — Teach More." The program included workshops and sharing sessions as well as an awards banquet.

Program assistants and community workers attending the conference from Madison County were: Vivian Allen, Juanita Merrifield, Lily Wilson and Nora Woods, Alton; Evelyn Schneidewind, Collinsville; Norma Burns, Viola Favier, Margaret Feeney and Wilma Hancock, Granite City; Lenora Brown, Eva Mae Davengport and Margaret Wade, Madison; and Drew Helen Johnson, Verna McClelland and Yvonne Marr, all of Venice.

Mrs. Ahlvers circle hostess

Mrs. Josephine Ramsey gave a lesson on "Miriam" in the continued study of the women of the bible, for members of Faith Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Mary Ahlvers and Mrs. Alice Cruise, circle leader, conducted the meeting. She led a discussion on plans for the annual church bazaar set for November. Members agreed to make relishes and jellies to be offered for sale at the fund raising project.

Mrs. Cruise noted there were 30 sick calls made during the month of May.

Each member answered roll call with a bible verse including the word friend or friendly.

Others present were Mrs. Woodie Lynn, Paula Smith, Clara Sottriff, Kathryn Richardson, Beesie Melton, Eula Meyers, Olga Tierney, Doris Wigger, Gerrie Thomas, Reba Wallace, Miss Elva Miller and a guest, Mrs. Ann Jolly.

The meeting closed with a chain of prayer and the group will meet again in September, it was noted.

QUARTERS STOLEN 2014 Sharon Jordan, 2014 Edwardsville Road, Madison, reported at 2:20 p.m. Sunday that $250 in 1976 Bicentennial quarters were taken from her home. Thirty dollars in Kennedy half dollars, near the quarters, were left untouched.

AIRMAN JAMES A. SCHODROSKI, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Schodroski, 1215 Klein St., Venice, has studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. Completion of this training earned him credit toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force. The local airman now goes to Chanute AFB, Rantoul, Ill., to attend the Air Training Command's fuel specialist course. Airman-Schodroski attended Venice High School.

AWARD RECIPIENT Robert J. Hildebrand, right, vice-president and trust officer, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, receives a plaque from Henry D. Karandjeff, honorary chairman of the bank, recognizing his service as president of the Trust Division of the Illinois Bankers Association for the past year. Karandjeff is a past president of the state association which has a membership of more than 1,000 banking institutions throughout the state.

Army raft handling tests in river here

On or about Sept. 19 and continuing through Oct. 25, the U.S. Army Test and Evaluation Command and the Materiel Testing Directorate from the U.S. Army Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., proposes to conduct a variety of operational and functional tests to evaluate small boat capability with respect to handling a float bridge.

The base of operations for this testing will be the Granite City Army Installation.

The operation will consist of launching the equipment at the GCAL ramp, assembling a 120-foot ribbon bridge raft, loading a Class 60 vehicle on the raft, moving to the Mosenhien Island chute area for rafting operations, and returning to the GCAL ramp for retrieval.

should the test boats lose power or have other difficulties.

Radio communication (channel 16 and VHF-FM) will be in use during the test to insure proper communication between test boats, river traffic and the Coast guard.

All vessel operators are to be advised to keep clear of the Mosenhien chute area during this test period, since the maneuverability of the test boats will not be known until conclusion of the tests and this could prove hazardous to anyone in the area, Lammert A. Buchhold said. He is acting chief, Operations Division, St. Louis District, Army Corps of Engineers.

Anti-women's rights forces are assailed here by Betty Friedan

Betty Friedan, regarded by many as the foremost spokeswoman for women's rights in the world, met with the Metro-East Chapter of the National Organization for Women during the weekend to plan new strategy for the Equal Rights Amendment in Illinois.

She expressed outrage at "the way American women are being manipulated by a few male legislators who profess an interest in women's rights but consistently vote against the ERA to preserve their own political interests."

An example, she said, of such manipulation is widespread misinformation that the ERA was defeated in the Illinois House when, in fact, the vote was not recorded.

Due to a parliamentary move to postpone, the amendment can be brought up for a vote again this session. Because of the "reported" defeat, many Illinois citizens have been led to believe the issue is dead in Illinois for 1977, she said.

"Not so. We've been sold a bill of goods to keep us quiet. We must express our outrage and demand an accounting from our elected representatives."

Mrs. Friedan warned that legislators who are against rights for women are "taking the first step toward reversing all gains made for women in the past decade."

"The majority of American women have been busy living the history of newfound rights and haven't had the time to recognize the insidious regression to second-class status which is the goal of anti-women's rights forces."

"The reason such groups as the Communist and American Nazi parties are against the ERA is that submissive persons are easy prey for despots." She cited the way European Jews were persecuted in World War II. "They began by taking away their rights a little at a time until they had no rights," she related.

Mrs. Friedan, a native of Peoria, said women who are students, lawyers, homemakers, doctors, business women, professors, active senior citizens, executives, secretaries, wives and mothers — who do double duty as homemakers and career women — are typical of the women of the Midwest "rather than the subjective women portrayed by the anti-ERA leadership."

Betty Friedan graduated summa cum laude from Smith College.

She was a student of the Gestalt psychologist, Kurt Koffka; held a research fellowship in psychology at the University of California in Berkeley; assisted in early experiments in group dynamics at the University of Iowa under the direction of Kurt Lewin; and has worked as a clinical psychologist and in applied social-science research.

She was the founder of the National Organization for Women and of the National Women's Political Caucus, and in 1970 was organizer and chairman of the Women's Strike for Equality commemorating the 50th anniversary of women suffrage.

Fitness helps ease workload for heart

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

What does physical fitness have to do with your heart? To begin with, being in good physical condition may help prevent diseases of the heart and blood vessels . . . may help lessen the severity of a heart attack if it occurs . . . and can help burn off calories to avoid obesity.

When you're physically fit, your heart works more efficiently and can respond better in case of emergency.

Your heart — the hardest working muscle in your body — needs care and attention. Improving your physical condition, no matter what your age, can benefit your heart in a number of ways.

If you want to start a physical fitness program, you should begin by seeing your physician for a complete physical examination. Then, with your doctor's advice, work out an exercise plan that is right for you.

It is especially important that those who have had any form of heart trouble exercise only under their doctor's orders.

Half of all deaths in America today are caused by heart disease. And, unfortunately, the problem will worsen as Americans eat more and exercise less.

Many Americans settle down at an early age to a life of physical inactivity. When we do get exercise, many of us tend to overdo it, and may strain our out-of-shape bodies.

How can regular exercise benefit your heart? To begin with, the ability of your lungs to process oxygen and your heart to pump blood improves with regular exercise.

Regular, brisk exercise also helps develop extra blood vessels . . . "collateral circulation" . . . that may save your life if other blood vessels are damaged.

When you're fit, veins and arteries are likely to be more flexible and larger in diameter . . . and blood flows more easily.

Regular exercise helps you relax, and relieves stress. You digest food more readily, and thus you suffer less from upset, indigestion or constipation.

Frequent hard exercise seems to "burn up" better cholesterol harmlessly. Regular exercise leads to greater reserves of physical and mental energy. Eating right along with exercising keeps you trim and makes you look and feel better.

If you have a desk job, chances are your heart works at only three per cent of its capacity. You can, however, take a few minutes of your working day to perform some "desk exercises."

1. Raise your legs from the floor while you are sitting in your chair. Stretch them out and rotate your feet. Repeat five times.

2. Stand up and then bend your knees while keeping your back straight. Shift your weight from one leg to the other and shake your legs out.

3. Breathe deeply. While exhaling slowly, rotate your shoulders backward in a shrugging motion and circle your head slowly.

4. Each time your telephone rings, pull in your stomach slowly, as far as you can. Hold it in for 20 seconds while breathing normally.

Also, park farther from the office and walk. Use the stairs instead of the elevator if you're going two or three flights up (or down).

Begin your stair climbing gradually, however, starting with one flight and adding on additional flights over a period of time.

The trick to any effective exercise program, however, is to stick with it. It might help if you have a friend or family member join you during your exercise breaks.

Also, keep in mind the good things exercise does for your heart, your appearance, your spirit.

Above all, take it easy while you're getting into shape. Start your program gradually; don't try to do it all at once. Don't expect to overcome years of inactivity in a few days.

Keep in mind, also, that there's more to fitness than just regular exercise. Three well-balanced meals each day are essential, as is learning to relax. Six to eight hours of sleep every night also are an important part of your overall fitness program.

It is within your power to look better and feel better. So, do yourself a favor and find the

RENTAL CENTER OPENS. The Taylor Rental Center, 3981 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, is officially opened by Village president Floyd Moss, third from left, last week. HOME AFTER VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Myers of Arlington Heights have returned home after a two-week visit in Dallas, Bedford and Eulless, Tex.

They were guests of former local residents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bradford of Bedford and Mrs. Richard Biggar and family of Eulless. They attended a dance and a high school graduation of Miss Michele Biggar.

Slight rise in traffic deaths

Superintendent of Illinois State Police Lynn E. Baird has announced provisional figures which indicate that during the month of May 172 persons died from injuries sustained in traffic accidents on Illinois highways. During the first five months of 1977 there were 439 rural fatalities; "one over last year" for the same period of time.

Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, State Police commander for the nine-county area included in District 11, announced figures which indicated that during May, 24 persons died as the result of 19 accidents on rural highways in District 11. District 11 includes the Quad-Cities.

Flag Day observed in ceremony here

A special 14-man flag-raising ceremony was held at the Granite City Army Installation Tuesday in observance of Flag Day.

The Garrison flag, 38 by 20 feet, was raised during the ceremony in front of the Headquarters building. Because of its size, this flag is flown only on special holidays and on Flag Day.

The installation is the base of the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center (AVSCOM) and is commanded by Lt. Col. Leonard J. Spangier.

Col. Spangier noted that Tuesday's observance of Flag Day marked the 200th anniversary of the adoption by the Continental Congress of the Stars and Stripes as the official flag of the United States. Each year, a Presidential proclamation is issued which urges government officials and citizens to display the flag in observance of Flag Day and National Flag Week.

While the observance was being held here, the annual Flag Day observance in Washington, D.C., consisted of a joint ceremony on the Washington Monument grounds and a dedication in the Pentagon of a "Flag Corridor" which includes the United States flag, state and territorial flags and a series of historical flags that flew over Jamestown in 1607.

Senior hot line — Social Security credits earned

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neil)

Q. How are Social Security credits earned, and how much work would a person reaching age 62 this year need in order to receive benefits?

A. For most jobs, a person gets credit for a quarter year of work if he is paid $50 or more during a three-month calendar quarter. A person retiring at age 62 in 1977 needs 26 quarters or 6½ years of work.

These credits or quarters of coverage can also be earned if a person is self-employed and has net earnings in a year of $400 or more from covered self-employment.

Q. What does Medicare pay towards hospital care as an inpatient?

A. Medicare hospital insurance will pay for all covered inpatient hospital service except for the first $24.

Medicare covers the first 60 days and all but $31 a day for the next 90 days of care, if needed. Beyond that, a person has 60 lifetime reserve days to draw on if the illness requires hospitalization for more than 90 days.

Q. How would seasonal work affect a person's Social Security checks?

A. If earnings for the 1977

calendar year don't exceed $3,000, benefits won't be affected.

If a person earns over $3,000, then $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $2 in earnings over $3,000.

Even if a person earns more than $3,000, Social Security can pay for any month that earnings don't go over $350. After age 72, there is no limit on how much a person may earn and still receive all Social Security benefits.

Q. Can Medicare help pay for part-time medical care in the home?

A. If a person is confined to his home and needs skilled health services, such as nursing care or physical or speech therapy, Medicare medical insurance will pay the full cost for up to 100 home health visits in a year after the $60 annual deductible is met.

Bond retirement cuts park budget

A new 1977-78 budget of $707,955 adopted by the Granite City Park Board is a reduction of $32,252 from last year's appropriation resulting from retirement of outstanding bonds for the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

This year's budget does not include an item of $61,125 for payment of bonds and interest, offsetting other minor increases in the new budget. The bonds were retired last year.

The new budget is made up of $415,886 in the general corporate fund, down $2,993 from last year's budget of $418,879, $235,189 in the recreation program and facilities fund, up $18,286, and $56,880 in miscellaneous items, down $47,945 from last year's $104,825.

A public hearing on the budget has been scheduled for 6:30 p.m. July 13. The board will meet after the hearing to act on the budget bill.

Diagnosis, treatment offered to youngsters

The Illinois Department of Public Aid is urging parents of Medicaid-eligible children to take advantage of the Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment (EPSDT) program to get medical examinations of their children this summer and continuing regularly until they reach 21.

The program, known in Illinois as Medichex, is administered jointly by the Illinois Departments of Public Aid and Public Health.

It provides payment for visits to physicians and dentists, or clinics, for regular medical and dental check-ups, tests and immunizations that protect the children against measles, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw.

In addition to the primary goal of detecting potentially disabling health problems early, the schedule of examinations was designed to coincide with the requirement of the Illinois School Code that children must have physical examinations for entrance into school, fifth and ninth grades.

Parents of eligible children between birth and their 21st birthday are being encouraged to make and keep medical and dental appointments to obtain preventive medical services available to them without cost through the Medichex program. Persons who have questions about the Medichex program or who experience difficulties getting appointments are advised to visit their local public aid office for further information or advice.

"Early diagnosis of health problems usually can alleviate problems and often can correct them entirely," Public Aid Regional Director Leona Franklin said. "Medichex is a valuable tool and parents should use it to the fullest."
